MILITIA AND CONVICTS FIGHT IN JOLIET RIOT

PRISONERS DRIVE OFF FIREMEN AS CELLS BURN

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEADS WIRE TO TRIBUNE

JOLIET, Ill., June 5.—Serious rioting among convicts at the state prison here broke out this morning. Five buildings were set on fire. Two companies of National Guardsmen were called to quell the disturbance.

At 1 o'clock all but 200 of the prisoners had been returned to confinement. The 200 still were in a corner of the yard defiant. Soldiers were not allowed to injure them and were jeered by the convicts. Guards were ordered to fire on the rioters. Two buildings, the paint shop and the laundry, were burned.

For some time there have been reports of law discipline at the prison and conditions were the subject of a recent investigation by a legislative committee. Warden Zimmerman resigned some time ago. Subsequently, to accept another position in Chicago, his home. His successor has not been appointed, and Bowen has been acting temporarily. Yesterday in the interests of discipline, he instructed that hereafter no visitors except relatives would be admitted to the grounds. This is said to have resulted in the disturbances.

A battle between convicts and guards was proceeding briskly when the riot broke out. The convicts were ordered to hold their fire, and although outnumbered nine to one, they began an orderly attack with bayonets and clubs. In the course of the fighting, Peter Waters, guard, was killed. Captain C. Ridgeway, of the E. Company, was attacked by a big negro. There was a terrific encounter for a moment until the soldier knocked his assailant unconscious with a blow from his fist.

The first work of the soldiers was to clear the convicts away from the burning buildings so that the firemen could work. This was quickly accomplished. At 1:14, three hours after the trouble started, the convicts had not been subdued, but the soldiers were making steady progress in herding them toward the cell rooms. The infantrymen were instructed not to shoot unless to save their own lives.

It is believed the uprising was prearranged at a secret meeting of the ring leaders at breakfast this morning. The convicts were seated in the dining hall when suddenly fifty or more prisoners began throwing heavy coffee cups and plates at the heads of the guards. Instantly there was an uproar and every guard on duty was called to the scene. Other convicts in other parts of the prison were hurried to their cells, but those in the dining hall were beyond control.

Suddenly the repair shop burst into flames. Then Acting Warden Bowen sent a hurry call for state troops and for Joliet city firemen. Seven fire companies responded and after a hard fight had the fire under control in the repair shop, the chair factory, the prison chapel, the lumber storage house and the oil house.

The first detachment of militia to arrive entered the prison yard with drawn bayonets and drove the convicts back. Many hand-to-hand combats were waged between guardsmen of Company B and F of the Infantry, Illinois National Guard, and the convicts before the men were driven to their cells.

Five men, all believed to be convicts, were hurt in the fighting and Peter Waters, a prison guard, was struck on the head by a brick, hurled by a convict. Waters' condition was reported serious.

After quiet was restored prison officials estimated that fully 600 convicts had taken part in the uprising. After it was thought the situation was in hand the fire began to gain headway in one corner of the prison yard. Infantrymen stopped trying to force prisoners into their cells to aid the firemen and loyal convicts to fight the flames. Some of the rioting convicts broke beyond control again and began attacking the firemen and loyal prisoners. The soldiers used their bayonets freely, stabbing many of the rioters. Acting Warden Bowen requested Major J. V. Clinton, commanding the infantrymen, not to shoot unless it was absolutely necessary. Some shots were fired during the fighting and a prison guard named Hawley was wounded by a bullet that rebounded from a stone wall.

PRATT TOOK JOY RIDES, SAYS BOYLE

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEADS WIRE TO TRIBUNE

Opposing the re-election of Daniel W. Pratt as secretary-business manager for the Board of Education, Director Harry L. Boyle made oral charges against Pratt before the board last evening. Boyle declared he would either make Pratt resign or force him out of the board.

The charges by Boyle were made in answer to recommendations made by Secretary Pratt to the members of the board in a meeting held last Saturday, when different employees in the department were re-elected for another year. Pratt included. At that time Boyle opposed the re-election of Pratt, but when this was done over his opposition he moved for a reconsideration. This came up last evening. Secretary Pratt recommended to the board that the position of purchasing agent, held by Harry Bridgeman, be abolished and that the position of warehouseman be created. He also recommended the abolition of the position of superintendent of buildings and grounds held by Frank Wilson and the abolition of the position of draftsman. The board re-elected Bridgeman for one year and Pratt was re-elected for the same period with an increase in salary from $310 a month to $325.

Director Boyle protested that Pratt is not a fit man for the position. He was challenged by Director Aber, and as a result, a hearing was conducted. A document containing his reasons for asking for a reconsideration of the board's action.

The oral charges made by Boyle were:

CHARGES MADE.

That Pratt had conducted his office in a willful and extravagant manner; insulted his superiors in the department; used the department automobile for long week-end pleasure trips; increased his salary for different times in the last year; that the secretary on May 19 drew a salary warrant in his own favor for the month of May, assigned it to a local bank, but that it was returned to the county treasurer. Friends of Pratt stated that this was merely an assignment and not a warrant. Other charges attacking the secretary were included in the document.

Secretary Pratt stated that he had been informed last Saturday morning that if he made certain recommendations, principally the abolition of Bridgeman's position, the charges would be made.

"Some of these charges may be true—some of them certainly are not true," he told the board members. "I demand an early hearing of any charges that may be made as we are busy in the department, and I do not want a thing like this hanging over my head. When the proper time comes I shall make all statements that may be necessary to disprove the charges."

PERSONALITIES FLY.

During the controversy between the two factions in the board personalities were indulged in heatedly. At the outset, Director Boyle moved for a reconsideration and asked that the board retire into executive session. President Brown acquiesced, as did Director Aber and Director Hawes, but Director Edwards remained in his seat, declaring that the matter should be threshed out in the open. Boyle demurred to the open session, declaring that if no one seconded his motion he "would have to prefer charges against Secretary Pratt."

SEA FIGHT OFF OSTEND; SHIP SUNK BY BRITISH

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEADS WIRE TO TRIBUNE

LONDON, June 5.—A combined land and sea engagement was fought off the West Flanders coast today. British warships bombarded the German base of Ostend, the admiralty announced. At the same time British cruisers and destroyers engaged a German flotilla at long range, sinking a German destroyer.

The British ships approached Ostend during the morning. The port was heavily shelled for some time, the Germans' shore batteries replying with vigor. It was observed that the shells from the British ships did considerable damage.

German flotilla were light cruisers and torpedo-boats. The Germans fled at the approach of the British and shots were exchanged at long range. One of the German ships was sent down and another was badly damaged. The British sustained no casualties.

DESTROYER NEW TYPE.

The text of the admiralty announcement reads:

"The vice-admiral at Dover reports that the enemy naval base and workshops at Ostend were heavily bombarded in the early hours this morning. A large number of rounds were fired with good results. The enemy shore batteries returned our fire, but our bombardment forces suffered no damage."

Commodore Tyrwhitt also reports that early this morning a force of light cruisers and destroyers under his command sighted six German destroyers and engaged them at long range in a running fight. One of the enemy destroyers, the S-20, was sunk by our gunfire and another severely damaged. Seven survivors from the S-20 have been picked up and made prisoner. There were no casualties on our side."

The German destroyer S-20 was built in 1912 and was 820 tons displacement. She was capable of 22 knots speed, carried 72 men and was classified as a splendid example of the latest type in such craft. Commander Reginald Tyrwhitt, mentioned as commanding the British flotilla which was victorious in the brush, has already had a distinguished career in the navy. He is commander of the destroyer flotilla of the first fleet. He participated in the Heligoland battle of August 27, 1914, and in the North Sea battle of January 24, 1915, when the German cruiser Bluecher was sunk.

AERIAL ATTACKS.

LONDON, June 5.—The aerial attacks on German establishments in Belgium are being continued vigorously by the British. Further operations were reported officially today as follows:

"Naval airplanes on Sunday night attacked the airfield at St. Denis Westman, near Ghent. Many bombs were dropped with good results. The enemy's seaplane base at Zebrugge was attacked by our seaplanes at the same time and shipping in Bruges also was bombed. All our machines returned safely."

LOSSES ARE HEAVY.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEADS WIRE TO TRIBUNE

VIENTIANE (Via London), June 5.—Italy's offensive in the Isonzo battles of the past nineteen days have cost her 100,000 in killed and wounded and 20,000 in prisoners taken by the Austrian forces, an official statement today asserted.

"West of Gorizia several enemy attempts to recapture the trenches lost on Sunday were futile," the Austrian war office continued.

"We captured 611 prisoners and nine machine guns, taking 350 additional prisoners in other engagements. The enemy occupied Kukuk mountain and the shell-battered ruins of Jamiano, both of which were small compensation for his heavy losses."

RAIDS CONTINUED.

LONDON, June 5.—Field Marshal Haig kept up his incessant raid fighting policy on the western front last night, he reported today.

"At night east and south of Ypres we made successful raids," he said.

"Southeast of Lens and south of Arras hostile raiders were driven off."

MACEDONIAN FRONT.

SOFIA, June 5.—The repulse of numerous French and British attacks on the Macedonian front is claimed by an official statement issued by the war office Monday.

COUNTY ROLLS UP BIG ARMY DRAFT QUOTA

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEADS WIRE TO TRIBUNE

Joint Action of the Authorities Causes the Enrollment to Proceed With Promptness

If Any Slackers Are Found They Will Not Be Arrested Until After 9 o'Clock This Evening

With the wheels of Federal, State, county and municipal machinery attuned to the magnitude of the task ahead, the work of registering the 20,000 to 22,000 men between the draft ages of 21 and 31, which is to form Alameda county's quota of the total national draft of 10,000, began this morning.

Early morning reports received by City Clerk Cummings were to the effect that in every part of the city the registration of men eligible to military service under the draft act is going along smoothly, while the police report that there have been no disturbances.

Each morning reports received by City Clerk Cummings were to the effect that in every part of the city the registration of men eligible to military service under the draft act is going along smoothly, while the police report that there have been no disturbances.

"Goit strafe America," written in black ink on the canvas over the entrance to the booth at Harrison and Eighth streets in precinct No. 152, met the eyes of Chinese youths, who comprised the largest number of registrants there. The tent had been so defaced sometime between last night and early this morning and as the police had evidently used an indelible pencil, the "strafe" sign remained there all day.

An election tent at Ignacio and High streets was damaged during the night by being slashed with a knife at the base and but otherwise no further damage to tents has been reported. Sunday night two fires were discovered in tents in East Oakland and in West Oakland, and the police today following clues that they believe may lead to the arrest of the person who started at least one of the fires.

Promptly at 7 o'clock the chief registrars were present in their precincts, ready to perform their duties. All were given final instructions at a meeting held last night at the city hall.

The reports returned from the precincts will be compiled tonight by a corps of clerks at the city hall and the complete report will be ready for filing with the federal authorities early tomorrow morning, it is planned.

CHINESE MUST REGISTER.

Despite threatened long troubles among the Chinese in San Francisco and in other parts of the state, the local Chinese eligibles will have to turn out in their respective precincts to register today, Clerk Cummings stating that no provision will be made to exempt them from their duty. All were given final instructions at a meeting held last night at the city hall.

PROMPT PLEDGES GIVEN TO FIGHT FOR UNCLE SAM

Registration to Comply With Army Draft Law Is Begun With Rush at All Polling Places in Nation; Big Lists 10,264,869 NAMES ARE EXPECTED

SACRAMENTO, June 5.—Registration proceeded splendidly in all portions of California, according to reports received by Director Ralph Merritt of the State Board of Registration.

"There has been no report of trouble anywhere," said Merritt, "and there was a very heavy registration early in the morning."

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Young America was at the polls today casting its vote for world democracy—registering for service.

Reports early today showed registration day fair throughout practically all the nation. The youth of the country was pledging itself bright and early, heavy listing being reported everywhere in the first few hours after opening of the registration stations. No city reported any disturbances in the early hours and the impromptu election machinery, called into service in the hour when America is selecting her men to fight Germany was running smoothly and easily.

Confesses Theft From Mail Cars

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—Elton D. Hocker, for the past ten years a railway mail clerk, confessed today, following the theft of $25,000 worth of jewelry during the past three years.

Hocker was in charge of the Ashland and San Francisco railway mail service. Following many complaints of losses while in transit, Postoffice inspectors trailed Hocker to his room at 735 Ellis street, where they recovered a large quantity of watches, rings and other jewelry, and arrested him.

Hocker is 35 years old and single. In his confession to Inspector Morse, he said the thefts had been going on for a period of three years. Although the prisoner did not implicate anyone else in the service, a rigid investigation will be immediately begun to ascertain whether or not a ring was involved in the wholesale thefts from the railway mail cars.

Postoffice Inspector Stephen H. Morse today received a telegram from Albuquerque, N. M., telling of the death there of a Grimes, a transfer clerk employed in the railway mail service. The telegram stated that Grimes was found dead in a room in a hotel at Albuquerque and a chest was found to have been pried open and many articles of jewelry strewn on the floor. Morse said that he would send a postal inspector to Albuquerque to investigate the circumstances of Grimes' death and the meaning of the broken chest.

REGISTRATION HEAVY.

Particularly heavy registration was reported from Detroit, New York, Richmond, Atlanta, Boston, Cleveland and most of the other large eastern cities. The weather at all of these points was clear and sunny.

Provost Marshal General Crowder expected by noon to have a preliminary report from the governor of every state estimating the percentage of men registered, the states' total population and giving details as to the results of the registration.

ANTI-DRAFT AGITATORS ARE CURBED

Night Riots Follow Goldman Meeting and Other Demonstrations; Round-Up Is Wide

Objectors Watched During Day by Authorities; Incipient Meetings Nipped in Bud

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—The first arrest in the anti-draft investigation by federal officers and the local police was made shortly before noon today when officers took into custody Vincent Ferrero, an alleged Italian anarchist. According to Insure Constantino, one of the arresting officials, Ferrero was talking in Italian to a number of men on Columbus avenue. When searched at the city prison Ferrero, according to the police, was found to have in his possession literature bearing on the anti-draft situation. The prisoner was charged with vagrancy and held at $1,000.

NEW YORK, June 5.—Without a semblance of confusion the work of enrolling on the national honor roll New York's 600,000 young men between the ages of 21 and 31 got under way today.

Eight thousand registration officers were on the job to handle the early morning rush. The registration proceeded according to early reports, at the average rate of 45,000 an hour.

That revolutionary and anti-military propaganda would receive a severe rebuff in the Ghetto district of New York was indicated from the morning registration. From the opening of the registration places this morning a great jam of eligibles facing the registration officers and no attempt to evade the registration was made. In the Eighth assembly district—the very heart of the Ghetto. The mothers and fathers of the eligibles were present in force to see that their sons accomplished their patriotic duty. The police resolutely held in the neighborhood of the booths and the anti-drafting arms resembled riot to the uninitiated but there was no trouble.

The East Side registration was the heaviest in the city up to 1 o'clock. It was indicated that the registration on the East Side would be far heavier than had been anticipated, as many of the eligibles registering did not appear on the poll lists, never having taken the trouble to register.

New York was under heavy guard. Every one of Police Commissioner Wood's bluecoats was at his post. So also was every one of the auxiliary home defense league substitutes. Armed police automobiles, carrying machine guns and heavily armed men were held in readiness for instant despatch. Every man in the New York National Guard was under arms and held for instantaneous action. Federal and State legal squads were on hand and ready to begin the arrest of slackers one minute after 9 p. m., when the polls for registration should close.

RIOTS AT NIGHT.

In mass-meetings, on the public streets, anti-draft agitators voiced their protest against the government act compelling registration last night. The first riot occurred in the Bronx. Speakers told their hearers not to register. Ten thousand people participated in the riot. Emma Goldman was the principal speaker at the meeting.

The second took place in New York's lower east side, the Ghetto—culminating at the very steps of the city hall.

The third riot occurred in Brownsville, where 5000 men tried to rescue three agitators arrested by the police. Police and soldiers were called upon to quell the rioters. Many persons were injured. Others were arrested. Their friends tried to rescue them from the authorities. But in the end the officials gained the whip hand.

At various points near the hall at the Goldman meeting impromptu meetings were held when volunteers orators mounted fences and inveighed against militarism. The situation inside the hall was little less tempestuous. Scattered through the audience were scores of government agents and detectives, while stenographers took down everything that was said. In the galleries were many young men in khaki, who expressed their disapproval of the speakers by hoots and jeers.

CALIFORNIA. Mich., June 5.—Emil Hannan and another young man, who refused to give his name, were arrested at Michawick, Mich., north of here today and turned over to the federal authorities. They had distributed literature urging young men not to register in Michigan and were on their way to Calumet with an of the city of Oakland and scattered throughout the county. In this he will have the assistance of deputy constables of the various townships and other peace officers. Federal officers will also watch the registration in this county as it is being watched in every precinct or district in the whole United States, to guard against anti-registration demonstrations of all kinds.

ARRESTS COME LATER.

Arrests of slackers will take place after 9 o'clock tonight, the hour for the closing of the registration. In this work, the police and Federal authorities will work as a unit. Announcement made by United States District Attorney John W. Preston is to the effect that willful failure to register will be vigorously prosecuted. Committing magistrates will be asked to fix bail as high as may be practicable in each case of this nature. Higher bail will be asked in the case of individuals who have advised or aided other persons to avoid registration. Interference with registration officers will also work a severe penalty.

As a portion of the precautions of the day, the saloons have agreed to remain closed until 7 p. m. this evening by voluntary arrangement and at the request of the Federal and municipal authorities. In the county, authority has been given to Sheriff Barnett to enforce election closing regulations between the hours of 7 a. m. and 7 p. m.

WILL WIRE SUMMARY.

At the conclusion of the registration tonight, a summary of the results will be put into effect, by which in forty-eight brief messages, each sent from a state, Washington will be apprised of the completed work of continental United States in the greater political tabulation the world has ever seen. It may take days to complete the summarization, as no complete totals are to be sent. In the interval the federal officials will take up the prosecutions of those arrested for interference with the draft provisions.

Most of the stores, business houses, commercial institutions and mercantile establishments are closed today to permit full co-operation with the needs of the government.

Organizations and crafts which comprise the commercial and industrial activities of the city also closed their doors for the day to allow employees to either register or act as a portion of the corps of guards who will be on duty at the booths to prevent trouble. The Retail Grocers' Association of Alameda County, the Butchers' Association and many of the related trades ordered their members to shut up shop for the day in response to the Federal appeal.

California was the second state in the Union to report that the registration machinery was complete. It was the first to report that the actual registration is completed. Under the summarization scheme, the registrars' cards will be collected and compiled immediately after the booths close. The totals will be handed to city and county officials, who in turn will report to the governor. When the last city and county has reported the governor will present his records to the provost marshal general's office at Washington, the center of the vast and complex machinery of war registration.

'Ready!' Says Young America Prompt Response in Registering

any local troubles which might have developed.

In the first few hours of registration only one organized move on the part of big business to secure its employees from the draft had been made apparent. This was in the form of telegraphic protests from New York, Chicago and other large cities that certain great public utility interests—telephone, gas, electric light and traction companies—were inducing their employees to claim exemption because they were employed in "public utilities necessary to the maintenance of the military machinery."

Officials here refused to indicate what decision they would make on such a plea.

The number to register is only about half the number of votes cast in a national election, but the problem is more stupendous for several reasons.

In the first place, every one from top to bottom of the recording machinery is unfamiliar with his duties, except in a theoretical way, while most section officials are veterans and do their work by routine.

In the second place, numerous men will have to register who never voted. This includes both those Americans who through ignorance, illiteracy or indifference, never cast ballot, and also aliens who had no right to vote, but must register just the same in order that Uncle Sam may have an exact record of everyone between the ages set. Many of these aliens cannot speak English.

In every city, town and village "Registration Day" is being observed by festivities of a thousand and one different sorts. In some places the day has been proclaimed a holiday.

REGISTRATION RAPID.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—Registration in San Francisco began early today and proceeded rapidly. Hundreds were gathered in front of the registration booths half an hour before 7 o'clock, the hour for registration to begin and each succeeding hour added measurably to the long lines.

The surprise of the early registration was the small number of men claiming exemption. Slackers were not in evidence.

Extra forces of police and federal guards were stationed in various portions of the city.

Army and recruiting offices were swamped with applicants, hundreds of men considering it wise to enlist voluntarily, thereby placing themselves in a position to select any arm of the service desired, rather than take chances on the draft.

Yesterday was a big day in recruiting, breaking all records, and today was expected to exceed yesterday's record.

Registration deputies today were sent through Chinatown to register all eligible Chinese, many of whom refused to leave their rooms because they fear assassination at the hands of opposing tong men.

An old war between the Hop Sing and Bing Kong tongs broke out afresh in Portland Saturday night and since that time tong men have kept to their rooms. Because his four brothers are fighting in the Kaiser's armies, Christian Jorgensen, a naturalized American, today claimed exemption from draft on grounds that he didn't want to take a chance of killing his brothers.

SACRAMENTO, June 5.—Rufus Barringer, 50 years of age, and said to be an Industrial Worker of the World, was arrested today by local police on a charge of distributing anti-draft literature in the town of Folsom. Barringer, who is said to have admitted distributing the literature, said he came from Seattle. He was taken into custody when he arrived from Folsom in an auto stage.

KILLED WHILE HIDING.

FORT WORTH, Tex., June 5.—E. H. Pulcher, a member of the Farmers and Laborers' Protective Association of America, who had hidden himself in the woods, heavily armed, for the announced purpose of resisting registration, was shot and killed near Midway, yesterday, by a posse of officers from Hood and Palo Pinto counties. It was learned today.

100,000 ENFORCE LAW.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Department of Justice officials said that, at a low estimate, an army of 100,000 federal, state and local employees are enforcing the registration law throughout the country.

Besides the special agents, police departments of all the cities, the American Protective League, with organizations in 300 cities, all postmasters and a host of other employees, watched the situation closely.

In some states National Guardsmen were in readiness for calling out in event of trouble.

CALL DEFENSE LEAGUE.

NEW YORK, June 5.—Fifteen hundred members of the Home Defense League were hurriedly called out this afternoon to assist in the registration work in New York City.

The emergency call came after scores of frantic appeals from registrars reached police headquarters. In hundreds of instances the registrars were swamped with applicants for registration. This was particularly true in the foreign sections, where enrollment was necessary through interpreters.

PATRIOTISM IN SOUTH.

NEW ORLEANS, June 5.—Confederate veterans proudly watched their grandsons enlist on paper today to fight for the United States. Between 35,000 and 35,000 young men were expected to register in New Orleans and about 150,000 in the State of Louisiana.

Among them many wearers of the gray, acted as deputy marshals. There was no disorder.

ELIGIBLES MISSING.

CHICAGO, June 5.—The delivery man in Chicago today brought to light the disappearance of a number of young men eligible to draft. Postmen returning from their first round turned over to secret service operatives all letters addressed to eligibles who could not be found, and search was instituted for them immediately.

Ten per cent of the men registering in the sixth precinct, twentieth ward, during the first hour, had seen service in the Russian army.

In a window opposite a polling place on East Fifty-seventh street, there was a placard reading: "Do not register; or claim exemption. Secret service men were sent to take it down."

Four hundred and fifty men of the "dandy first" Illinois infantry were busy trying to get down registration protests. With signs reading "Choose your comrades in arms; don't have them thrust on the shadow of the polls the night of the Hyde Park M. C. A. precinct none of the first 31 men registering claimed exemption."

THOUSAND ON GUARD.

LOS ANGELES, June 5.—With the sun beating a weak attack against a solid bank of gray clouds, but with no apparent immediate danger of rain, registration day will see approximately 60,000 of Los Angeles' male citizens submit themselves for selective military service. Armed men are on guard.

The force to enforce order and protect against anti-conscription or registration riots is composed of the police department, deputy United States marshals, a "you," they snatched many youths from detention of California coast artillery and deputy sheriffs. Twenty-five motor-cycles are at the disposal of Chief of Police Butler and Sheriff Cline, who are in charge of enforcing the law.

As the polls opened through the city men were there—ready for the first opportunity to "do their bit." Scores of automobile filled with anti-conscription handbills and posters.

THREE ARE ARRESTED.

AMERICAN FALLS, Idaho, June 5.—Three well-known citizens of this city have been arrested for using alleged traitorous language against the government of the United States, talking against registration for selective draft and making derogatory remarks about President Wilson.

Secret service men are watching other suspects and arrests will follow any agitation against the draft.

HELD AS AGITATORS.

VERNON, Tex., June 5.—George Dodson of Vernon, secretary of the local order of the Farmers and Laborers' Protective Association, was taken into custody charged with conspiracy against the government.

Sheriff J. D. Key has received telegraphic instructions from Federal District Attorney Odell of Dallas, ordering that Dodson, his father, C. F. Dodson, and W. H. Smith, Vernon, be brought before the federal grand jury at Dallas. This jury is investigating alleged conspiracies.

Vernon arms dealers, after receiving what they term unprecedented calls for high power rifles during the last two weeks, reported the matter to the sheriff.

PUEBLO HEAD ARRESTED.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., June 5.—Jose Canice, governor of the pueblo of Santo Domingo; Santiago Pena, an influential member of the pueblo, and Julian Baca, an Indian police official, were arrested by Deputy United States Marshal Harry A. Murphy, charged with conspiring to prevent the registration of more than twenty Santo Domingos.

The three Indians refused to allow officers to summon distant members of the pueblo for registration, according to a statement issued by the United States attorney's office, taking the position that they should not be subject to military service since they had no right to vote.

They were allowed to return to their pueblo by United States Commissioner George R. Craig, who said he would dismiss the charge against them if they assisted in the registration.

ARREST ORDERED.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., June 5.—State Representative J. C. Thurmond of Tulsa, one of the oldest members of the Oklahoma legislature, was ordered arrested by Federal authorities today, the result of an anti-draft oration delivered at his home town.

"I have not heard of any young men in this community enlisting and I hope they won't," Thurmond said, according to the reports to Governor Williams, which resulted in the order for his arrest.

Early risers crowded the downtown registration places, eager to register and be on their way to work. Although protesting a holiday by Mayor Woodman, not all business is observing it as such.

That if trouble grows out of registration, it will come from the Mexican element, is the opinion of Chief Butler and Sheriff Cline.

A great number of Mexicans have been seen in the streets since the city was closed.

Most trouble may be expected here as many are I. W. W.'s and anarchists.

FALL SHORT OF 8000.

SAN JOSE, June 5.—Despite some feeble attempts in isolated quarters to curtail the number of registrations, for the draft that is being held here today, the work progressed without notable incident. The early calculations were the number of registrations of eligibles would fall slightly short of 8000 that had been estimated a few weeks ago. From best calculations up to noon the number registered in Santa Clara county will not far exceed 6000. No disturbances of note were reported.

At the polling place and the work was progressing with dispatch and order. Special precautions against any hostile demonstration or any effort to embarrass the work, were taken by both the office of the court sheriff, the San Jose police and the officers of the local recruiting stations. Men were detailed from all these departments that were kept constantly on call.

PRETTY GIRLS BUSY.

WINNETKA, Ill., June 5.—Pretty young girls handed out pretty gray armbands bearing the single word "registered" to youths registering here.

QUESTION 12 AN ERROR.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—"Registrars forcing men to answer question No. 12 in the registration card are in error," said Provost Marshal General Crowder today. "It is a natural error, since the question is there and they may not have been officially ordered to disregard it."

Notice that question No. 12 might be passed over was wired to the governors, but was not bulletined direct to registration officials, the provost marshal-general explained. Upon receiving notice that officials in Elkhart, Ind., were insisting upon answers to that last question, the provost marshal-general's office wired instructions that answering the question is optional with the applicant.

HUNDREDS GO EARLY.

SAN DIEGO, June 5.—Perfect weather favored registration day here, and hundreds of young men registered during the early morning hours.

Everywhere in the city was blown as the registration places opened at 7 a. m. and at 10 a. m. thousands gathered at the immense stadium, where patriotic exercises were held. A regiment of coast artillery added military touch to the scene. Store and public offices were closed during the exercises and public buildings were closed all day.

FIRST ARREST REPORTED.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—The first word of trouble at the registration booths reached the department of justice at 12:30 o'clock in a despatch announcing arrest of a man at Providence, R. I., on a charge of interfering with registration. The report gave no details and department officials said they inferred the man was probably endeavoring to persuade others not to register.

HATS OFF TO WOMEN.

MADISON, Wis., June 5.—Hats are off to the women of Wisconsin today. In one day they have accomplished what the legislature of the state has failed to do in months.

When the registration booths close at a closed tonight, 150,000 copies of the President's war message will have been in the hands of the registrants. Printing and distribution of the document has been a subject of discussion in both the Senate and House since early in April. Easy young men registering at many places throughout the state was presented with an arm band of khaki.

FOR UNCLE SAM FIRST.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 5.—"We don't claim Uncle Sam's message," said a German. That's the spirit of St. Louis Germans in the fifth ward. Out of 100 Germans who registered early, only five claimed exemption. They were married men.

In the Russian, Polish and Italian wards a majority claimed exemption.

BOPP MAY ASK TO SERVE TERM

Facing the possibility that the war may last for several years and that he will be interned on Angel Island all that time with his prison term of two years still to serve when internment is over, Franz Bopp, former German consul-general for San Francisco, is about ready to give up his battle for legal freedom on appeal and take his punishment with him. That is the interpretation placed by officials upon Bopp's request of the federal government for permission to come to San Francisco for an interview with his counsel, Theodore Roche. The permission has been granted.

Bopp, Eckhardt von Schack, Wilhelm von Brincken, Charles C. Crowley and Margaret W. Cornell were sentenced on January 22 after they had been convicted of violation of neutrality. Crowley and Mrs. Cornell did not appear from the judgment, but were serving their term at once. The German defendants, however, took appeals. While these were pending, war was declared and the three were promptly interned.

TWO YEAR SENTENCE.

Bopp has two years' sentence in the federal penitentiary on McNeill's Island, Washington. If he should serve out his term before the decision was given in the appeal, the imprisonment would not attach any stigma to him except in the event that the judgment was affirmed. If he should remain interned as a military prisoner during the pendency of the appeal, he might have to serve his two years even after a long period of confinement in the concentration camp.

It is said that Von Schack and Von Brincken disagree with Bopp and are going to await the result of the appeal, hoping that they will be cleared. That is according to some friends of the prisoners. According to others, Von Schack is of the same mind with Bopp and is coming to San Francisco with him tomorrow.

ATTORNEY DENIES.

Theodore J. Roche, attorney, today denied that Franz Bopp and Eckhardt von Schack, German consuls officials convicted of violating American neutrality, will begin serving their two-year sentences instead of remaining in an internment camp at Angel Island.

"The case is on appeal," said Roche, "and there is no intention whatever of dropping the appeal. We are going through with it."

Taxpayers' League, and John Somers, former secretary, and several other of their constituents, were in the room, but with remarks from Director Boyle that the meeting had been packed, they said that they would withdraw, which they did.

FORMAL CHARGE SET.

Upon the premise that formal charges had been made President Brown set Wednesday afternoon as the time for trial. In the meantime the whole matter will be discussed at a committee meeting tonight. Director Boyle said that he made no formal charges and will do so when he gets ready, probably before the grand jury, he added.

U-BOAT TOLL LOW.

PARIS, June 5.—Only ten French ships were sunk by German submarines during the month of May, the government announced today. Twenty-eight French vessels were attacked by the U-boats, eight escaped. Patrol vessels fought twelve engagements with enemy submarines and hydro-aeroplanes fourteen.

TO PROBE STRIKE.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 5.—The United States district attorney's office here today is investigating a report that the strike at Oregon City, which caused a complete shutdown of the big Crown-Williams paper mills, was the result of the activity of German agents.

EVERY WOMAN EVERY MOTHER NEEDS IRON AT TIMES

To put strength into her nerves and color into her cheeks.

There can be no beautiful, healthy, rosy-cheeked women without iron. The trouble of the past has been that when women needed iron they generally took ordinary iron pills, which often corroded the stomach and did far more harm than good. Today doctors prescribe organic iron—Nuxated Iron. This particular form of iron is easily assimilated, does not irritate the stomach, and increases the strength and endurance of weak, nervous, irritable, careworn, haggard-looking women 100 per cent in two weeks' time in many instances. I have used it in my own practice with most surprising results.

NOTE: NUXATED IRON recommended above by Dr. Ferdinand King can be obtained from any good druggist with an absolute guarantee of success or money refunded. It is dispensed in this city by The Owl Drug Co. and all good druggists.

RUSS PEACE CONFERENCE SET JULY 8

By William G. Shepherd.
United Press Staff Correspondent.
PETROGRAD, June 5.—The workmen's and soldiers' council today named July 8 as the date for the Russian-called Stockholm peace conference.

The formal call for the international meeting summarizes its purpose "to organize a world union for peace means to end the war and eliminate imperialism."

The council of soldiers and workmen's delegates today sent a long statement to the Socialist parties and central federations of trades unions of the world, repeating its appeal of March 28 to unite in resolute actions in favor of peace and in which it is described on its banner:

"Peace without annexations or indemnities on the basis of rights of nations to decide their own destiny." News that the American government had refused proposals to Socialists to a Stockholm conference caused great disappointment here. President Scheideitz of the soldiers' and workmen's council declared he was "dismayed" by the refusal.

Labor troubles are increasing here. Today a general strike was ordered in all Petrograd factories because of the employers' refusal to accord a six-hour day and equal wages to men and women.

Demands of miners for a 200 per cent increase in wages were also made public today. The miners received a 90 per cent increase granted by the Department of Commerce in March.

PACIFIST CHEERED.

COPENHAGEN, July 5.—With anxiety in Petrograd and fatal riots in Kiev, the acute Russian situation took on new complications today when certain labor leaders proclaimed a general strike, said a despatch from the Russian capital.

Sailors supporting the Kronstadt government marched through the streets of Petrograd cheering for Nicholas Lenine, the pro-German pacifist.

BRUSILOFF LEADER.

General Michael V. Alexieff, commander-in-chief of the Russian armies, has resigned. General Alexis Brusiloff, commander-in-chief of the armies on the southwestern front, has been appointed to succeed him.

General Gurko, commander of the western front, replaces Brusiloff on the southwestern front.

General Alexieff was appointed commander-in-chief on April 15, soon after the retirement of Grand Duke Nicholas from that post.

General Brusiloff recently resigned from his position as commander-in-chief of the armies on the southwestern front, but withdrew his resignation after a conference at Petrograd.

The principal speaker declared it was useless to attempt separate peace negotiations with the Russian provisional government, but suggested that advantage might be taken of present conditions in Russia to approach the Finns and Little Russians with peace proposals. He asserted that Finland and the Ukraine could easily be detached from Russia.

The speaker further advocated the seizure by Germany of Lithuania and Courland and their colonization by two million German speaking Russians from the interior of the Slavic dominions, thus weakening Russia and establishing a complete bulwark of dependent states east of Germany and Austria-Hungary.

Alsace - Lorraine Demanded Main French Peace Proviso

PARIS, June 5.—By a vote of 453 to 55, the chamber of deputies, in secret session, has adopted a resolution declaring that peace conditions must include the liberation of territories occupied by Germany, the return of Alsace-Lorraine to France and just reparation for damage done in the invaded regions. The resolution, which was accepted by the government, also favors the creation of a league of nations for the maintenance of peace.

"The chamber of deputies, the direct expression of the sovereignty of the French people, salutes the Russian and other allied democracies and endorses their unanimous protest which the representatives of Alsace-Lorraine, torn from France against their will, have made to the national assembly. It declares that it expects from the nation imposed upon Europe the return of Alsace-Lorraine to the mother country, together with liberation of invaded territories and just reparation for damage.

"Far removed from all thoughts of conquest and enslavement, it expects that the efforts of the armies of the republic and her allies will secure, durable guarantees for peace and independence for people, great and small, in a league of nations such as has already been foreshadowed.

"Confident that the government will bring this about by the co-ordinated military and diplomatic action of all the allies and rejecting all amendments, the chamber passes to the order of the day."

Striking to the resolution, Premier Ribot said:

"This resolution affirms our national sovereignty. It declares that in a democracy like ours there can be no secret diplomacy. None can or will ally itself with the national sovereignty. None has ever betrayed such thoughts. French policy is the policy of frankness and clearness."

SCIENTISTS TELL OF PLAGUE WAR

NEW YORK, June 5, 1917.—The special committee, appointed by Mayor Mitchell and supported by the Rockefeller Foundation, and the Department of Health in combating the infantile paralysis epidemic last summer and fall, has just completed its report of the work it is soon to be published.

The following advance report is made from the full text: "The record of a painstaking study of 2,496 cases diagnosed by the Department of Health as poliomyelitis from July 17 to September 20, 1916 (out of a total of 802 cases in the greater city) and the committee draws the following conclusions:

Infantile paralysis is communicated by personal contact.

Eight and non-paralytic cases are the most frequent sources of infection. As these cases arouse no suspicion others come more in contact with them.

The disease usually develops from three to ten days after exposure. Previous good health does not give immunity from attack.

The points in the report cited as of the most practical importance to parents are these:

First: Children who are ill should be kept away from others until it is definitely certain that the ill child has not a communicable disease.

Second: If one's own child develops suspicious symptoms keep the child away from others till it is known he has not a communicable disease.

Early diagnosis of suspected cases and prompt isolation of the patient are held to be of the greatest importance to prevent spread of the disease.

ANIMALS CLEARED.

In supplementary investigations the committee could find no substantial evidence to show that infection was spread from contaminated sources of milk supply or other foods, nor that the disease is carried by insects, or by clothing and other extraneous objects.

The committee consisted of Mayor Mitchell, chairman, Dr. Simon Flexner, vice-chairman, Dr. Haven Emerson, Dr. J. H. Henshaw, Dr. J. H. Henshaw, Dr. J. H. Henshaw.

Butler Dr. Alvah H. Doty served as medical director and supervised the field force of physicians and nurses.

CHINESE MAY END REPUBLIC

By Ralph H. Turner.

United Press Staff Correspondent.

TOKYO, June 5.—The Chinese revolutionary movement today is tending toward the restoration of a monarchy and the enthronement of the old Chang dynasty.

Latest reports received here from Peking deny that President Li Yuan Hung has resigned under pressure of the militarists, who have established a provisional government at Tientsin. Hsu Shi Chang, head of the revolutionists, provisional government, is known to have monarchistic leanings.

Hsu Shi Chang has assumed his duties and is preparing to demand the resignation of President Li Yuan Hung.

The disruption of parliament today threatened to block the plan of President Li to rush through an immediate declaration of war against Germany. Eighty members of parliament have resigned and several members of Li Yuan Hung's administration have fled from Peking, according to cablegrams received here.

This leaves President Li's government practically paralyzed.

The movement toward a monarchy is further emphasized by the fact that General Chang Hsun, military governor of the province of Anhwei, favors reviving the old Chang dynasty. It was General Chang who virtually placed Hsu Shi Chang at the head of the provisional government in Tien-Tsin.

Two thousand rebel troops from the province of Anhwei, belonging to the command of General Ni-Shi-Chun, have arrived near Tien-Tsin on a special train. Two thousand more are reported to be en route to Tien-Tsin from another province. No other movement of troops is reported.

STRONGLY ADVISES HER TO USE CREDIT

Oh, yes, Gertrude, I was going to tell you about the beautiful new summer dress I bought the other day at CHERY'S for $19.50. They were the most beautiful silk dresses I have ever seen, and in all of the popular shades of the season.

There were a wonderful lot at $25, and just as soon as I can I am going in and get one of them, too. Really, I save quite a bit of money buying at CHERY'S. Their goods are always the very best, and their prices are much lower than you can find elsewhere. Besides there is the convenience of liberal credit.

Yes I would strongly advise you to go to CHERY'S to buy your clothes. You not only save money, but you can get credit, which is a wonderful helping hand to the woman of moderate means.

CHERY'S have two stores in Oakland—the ladies' store is at 515 13th St. and the men's store is at 1228 12th St. In San Francisco they also have two stores—one at 2400 Mission St. that is at 48 and 52 Geary St. between Kearny and Grant Ave. Also Sacramento—Advertisement.

WILSON IS HEARD BY VETERANS

WASHINGTON, June 5.—"This nation was kept united for the great world purpose it was meant to serve," President Wilson told the United Confederate Veterans at their convention today.

"Love of self-government and liberty by the North and South was the motive of the Civil war," the President said.

"This country must now make self-government and liberty safe for mankind."

The significance of registration day was brought home when the President emphasized that the duty to serve and the privilege to serve falls on all alike.

"There is something fine about the spirit of volunteering, but bigger is the spirit of obligation," said the President.

Commissioner Brownlow, son of a Confederate veteran, declared Washington was proud to be cheered by the hosts in gray.

"This is a solemn day in the history of our country," he told the veterans.

"Today ten million men are registering for duty under the Stars and Stripes. Two million of these will go abroad. They will go to fight, not into a European war as it is called, but they will go to fight in an American war."

SERVICE URGED.

"We will serve in common," said the President.

"These are days of oblivion as well as of memory, for we are forgetting the things that once held us asunder. Not only that, but they are days of rejoicing because we are at last seeing this great nation was kept united for the great world purpose which it was meant to serve."

Many men, particularly of your own generation, have wondered at some of the dealings of Providence, but the wise heart never questions the dealings of Providence, because the great long plan as it unfolds has a majesty about it and a definiteness of purpose, an elevation of ideals, which we were incapable of conceiving as we try to work things out with our own short-sighted and weak strength. And now that we see ourselves part of a nation, united, powerful, great in spirit and in deed, we know the hand of Providence which God in His mysterious Providence wrought through our instrumentality, because at the heart of the men of the north and of the south there was the same love of self-government and liberty, and now we are to be an instrument in the hands of God to see that liberty is made secure for mankind. At the day of our greatest division there was one common passion amongst us, and that was the passion for liberty, and now we did not know that God was working out in his own way the method by which we should best serve human freedom—by making this nation a great united, indestructible instrument in his hands for the accomplishment of those great things.

"As I came along the streets a few minutes ago my heart was full of the thought that this was registration day. Will you not support me in the feeling that there is some significance in this coincidence, that this day, when I come to welcome you to the national capital, is a day when men, young as you were in those old days when you gathered together to fight, are now answering their duty as evidence of this great idea, that in a democracy the duty to serve and the privilege to serve falls upon all alike? There is something very fine in my fellow citizens, in the spirit of the volunteer, but deeper than the volunteer spirit is the spirit of obligation."

ADJOURN SENATE.

A thrill of patriotic feeling ran through the United States Senate this afternoon as the gray-clad Confederate veterans, with their trembling voices and tear-filled eyes, arose in their midst and moved that the Senate adjourn out of respect to the Southern soldiers holding their reunion in the national capital.

It was Senator Bankhead of Alabama who first proposed that the Senate adjourn. He was attired in the full uniform of a Confederate private. As if to emphasize the spirit of national unity while the nation's youth is pledging itself to new service and sacrifice, the Senate adjourned until Friday without a dissenting voice.

WILL HOLD BALL.

The second annual joint ball of the Young Men's and Young Ladies' Institutes of Alameda county will be held at the Hotel Oakland Friday evening, June 8. The ball will be the big social function of the organization for the year. It will draw a big attendance from all parts of the bay district. Anthony Silva will be floor manager. The committee in charge includes the following:

Mrs. Agnes Krieger, Miss Anna C. May, Miss Nina M. May, Miss Teresa Schmidt, Mrs. Belle Pimental, Mrs. Edmund Heritage, Mrs. Anna Murray, Miss Nora Lyndon, Miss Ella Canahine, Miss Florence Talbot, Miss Rose V. Hayes, Miss Florence Giblin, Miss Mae Flynn, Miss Catherine Perry and Miss Josephine Eddies of the women's organization, and J. J. Mulvaney, J. T. O'Brien, H. W. Wright, Frank Cullen, Thomas Furlong, C. V. Nolan, Joseph Silva, W. F. Hayes, Joseph W. Wright, M. J. Souza and Edmund Heritage of the men's organization.

Nation Will Uphold Doctrine Petersen Speaks at Luncheon

Patriotism, sober and fully conscious of the grave responsibilities facing the nation, yet with the enthusiasm and confidence of an exalted and noble fulfillment of duty was the note of the Ad Club luncheon this noon, revealing beneath the normal good fellowship of the occasion the consciousness of the significance and importance of the occasion. The speaker was given to this sense of individual devotion to a world cause by the speaker of the day, Chief of Police Walter J. Petersen.

"When the explosion that destroyed the battleship Maine in Havana harbor in 1898 aroused this nation to the fact that we were at war," he said, "the sound of our guns told the world that a merchant nation—a nation of shopkeepers—had entered upon a new policy. The Monroe doctrine was given a new meaning. The world realized that the United States had become a nation other than that of making money."

BIG DAY FOR NATION.

"Today this new meaning of the Monroe doctrine is being brought throughout the land as with the sound of a tocsin, calling our youth to register for service in the cause of humanity. This is a day of dedication, a day of sacrifice and a day of rejoicing."

"Why are we at war? Thinking men do not hesitate to answer. We are at war to advance the cause of democracy. We are taking up arms only for the sake of a freer and happier humanity."

"We have no hatred for those peoples against whom we are lifting the gaze of battle. With patience did we wait for them to come to the water to keep out of this conflict, but we have been forced to become participants."

"What place belongs to us in this tremendous conflict? Where is the arena of our action? Should we submit the conditions that present themselves?"

"First of all, our boys must be on the battle line to meet the rude shock of conflict. Their breasts must meet the bullets, their limbs be torn, for like water to support our theory of government. But is it only a theory? Is it not a fact that in the evolution of humanity, world-wide democracy must prevail?"

"Our boys must be supported by the full power of the nation. You realize that Europe is now spent in its titanic struggle. You realize that England has all it can do and then some, that France has on her battle line the gray and the beardless striving to fight for her existence on the frontier, that Russia has not yet found herself in the chaos of a revolution out of which a noble democracy will shape itself as the successor to democracy."

"The cause for which we are at war is the noblest for which a nation can sacrifice its human treasure and its gold—the greatest good for the greatest number."

President George Fitch of the Ad Club presided, introducing Adolph H. Schleuter as chairman of the day.

A brief plea for the Liberty Loan bond campaign was made by Postmaster J. J. Rosborough. Plans for the ten-day campaign which will include the subscription of $10,000,000 by Alameda and Contra Costa counties were outlined by him, and a call was made for speakers.

A meeting will be held tomorrow noon in the Commercial Club room for the organization of the Liberty Loan committee, and a meeting will be held for the assignment of speakers.

MELVIN IS SPEAKER.

ALAMEDA, June 5.—Amid the waving of the flags of the allies, the stirring music of the American national airs and responding to the thrilling words of Judge Henry A. Melvin, the people of Alameda today consecrated themselves to the war, the parade and following patriotic exercises planned to mark registration day proved to be one of the most striking demonstrations in the history of the city.

Not only was the parade large and impressive, but it was composed of so many unusual units that enthusiasm was early stirred and kept alive until the close of the program.

On the arrival at Lincoln park, J. R. Knowland, president of the day, introduced the speakers. The president of the day said that the parade was not only a day of registration for war service, but that all could help with the Red Cross work, the Liberty Bond sale and in looking after the loved ones left behind by those going to the war.

Judge Henry A. Melvin, orator of the day, said in part:

"It has been truly said that today is a solemn day. Within the next 20 days we celebrate two other days, June 14, the day our flag was born, and July 4, when American independence was declared. The historian of the future will also write of today—registration day, and I hope it is referred to as consecration day."

THIS IS OUR WAR.

"I recent any reference to this being a foreign war. It is our war. The war is now going on and we are in it. If we were not in it it would be only a matter of a few months when the most awful automatic military power the world has ever seen would be marching northward from Mexico to invade America. It is to protect our homes and loved ones from the awful fate of Belgium and Belgium women and children that we are in this war. Let's not make any mistake about this."

Of many of our bravest and best are going into the war. Perhaps they will not return, but the sacrifice is worth while. I seem now to see the soldiers of France and the soldiers of America marching together across the fields of France singing that grand French anthem, the Marseillaise, and giving the world its greatest exhibition of the love and power of democracy."

BERKELEY CELEBRATES.

BERKELEY, June 5.—In town meeting this afternoon at the Greek theater at the University of California and in various churches of the city this morning, Berkeley celebrated Registration day today. Impressive programs were given in most of the city's places of worship where prominent laymen were the chief speakers.

An audience of several thousand persons attended the meeting this afternoon in the Greek theater. Members of Look-out Mountain post of the Grand Army, and in various churches of the city this morning, Berkeley celebrated Registration day today. Impressive programs were given in most of the city's places of worship where prominent laymen were the chief speakers.

Mayor Samuel C. Irving presided at the meeting. The speakers included Dean David E. Barrows of the University of California, and in various churches of the city this morning, Berkeley celebrated Registration day today. Impressive programs were given in most of the city's places of worship where prominent laymen were the chief speakers.

The musical program included assembly singing of several national airs, including "America," "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" and "The Star-Spangled Banner." Clinton R. Morse, director of the University Glee club, was leader of the singing.

AD. MEN ACTIVE.

ST. LOUIS, June 5.—As the thirtieth annual convention of the Associated Advertisers of the United States opened this afternoon, there were two divisions in which the public will be especially interested—the Conference of Advertising Women and the Department of Church Advertising.

On the convention program this morning William H. Brown, advertising manager of the National Lead Co., New York City, will deliver the address of the day, "The Work of the Advertiser in the War." A round of $1,000,000 is to be put into religious publicity in the secular papers of Japan, India and China, according to an announcement made today in the church publicity conference.

CONTEST AT END.

Contest over the estate of the late William Voss Bryan, whose widow, formerly Miss Mary Mitchell of this city, has been defending her share of the $400,000 residue against the claims of Mrs. Linda Bryan Corbat, a step-daughter, was settled by compromise before Superior Judge B. J. Flood of San Francisco yesterday.

As a result of the compromise effected, 21 per cent of her father's estate of $440,000 and the widow will receive 53 per cent instead of 75 per cent. The bequest allowed the two sons in the will of 12 per cent each by the compromise be raised to 13 per cent.

The widow and her son, who is known as William Voss Bryan, was prominent in the cast bay district.

PLAN PROHIBITIVE TAX ON WHISKEY

WASHINGTON, June 5.—President Wilson's tax bill will have full force to place an embargo on neutral nations found to be re-exporting American products into enemy territory.

The embargo bill, containing a full embargo clause, will be passed by both Houses of Congress, probably Friday, and ready for the President's signature Saturday.

Prohibition legislation was approved by the Senate Finance Committee today as a new feature of the war tax bill.

Prohibitive taxes upon distillation of whiskey and other spirits for beverage purposes, with a ban upon their importation and exportation, will be a substantial majority of the committee. Taxes fixed by the House on beer and wines were left unchanged, although they have not yet been finally approved.

General supervision of beverage production to distilleries and use of liquor now in bonded warehouses probably would be the effect of the new tax section if enacted into law.

KILLED BY BLAST.

CHICAGO, June 5.—Zebulon Brundage, aged 11, was fatally injured and killed by a blast of a dynamite explosion from which he is expected to die, when a black satchel they found in the rear of a cleaning shop exploded. The shop was being used as a registration place. The dynamite was found after being removed to a hospital.

Examination of the satchel showed it had also contained burglar tools and the police concluded that it had been sequestered behind the cleaning shop by safe-blowers.

APPOINTED POUNDMASTER.

RICHMOND, June 5.—John Christensen of El Cerrito has been appointed by the board of supervisors to act as poundmaster for El Cerrito.

MOORE TO CONFER HIGHEST DEGREE

Alameda county members of Scottish Rite Masonry, holding the titles of Thirty-third degree, will meet tonight in San Francisco with all other Thirty-third Masons of the Northern California district when George Fleming Moore, sovereign grand commander of the Supreme Council of Scottish Rite Masonry for the southern Jurisdiction of the United States, confers the highest degree upon one transbay candidate.

During the highest American Mason's stay in the bay district he has been the recipient of receptions and banquets by the score. Following his arrival here yesterday he was shown Alameda county places of interest. In the early part of the evening, thirteen Thirty-third degree Masons of Alameda county were hosts to Moore and William P. Finlay, sovereign grand inspector-general of Northern California, at a dinner at Hotel Oakland.

After adjourning to Scottish Rite Cathedral, John C. McEwing, Master of Kadoosh, conferred the thirty-third degree upon thirty candidates, with Finlay and Moore as special guests. A reception and banquet followed. Six hundred members were around the board. Moore spoke upon Masonry in the warring countries. Following the initiation efforts and preceding the banquet, the Scottish Rite district team gave an exhibition.

The thirty-third degree Masons who entertained Moore and Finlay were: Webb N. Pearce, Ben Johnson, John A. Hill, August L. Ott, Charles L. Pierce, John McEwing, C. F. Robins, Francis H. E. O'Donnell, Harry Elderson, Edward Robinson, A. L. Smith, Lorenzo Inskip, A. W. Rasmussen.

McClymonds Honored by School Board

"Superintendent Emeritus" is the title which has been bestowed upon J. W. McClymonds by the Board of Education at the suggestion of Fred M. Hunter, Oakland's newly appointed superintendent of schools. The action was taken at a meeting of the board held yesterday afternoon by unanimous vote.

The resignation of McClymonds four years ago was attributed to ill health, and since his withdrawal from the teaching profession he has devoted much of his time to agricultural work on his farm.

The honorary title was conferred upon McClymonds in the following resolution: "Whereas Mr. J. W. McClymonds has served the city of Oakland for a quarter of a century with distinguished success as its superintendent of schools, and throughout this period of time has been a recognized leader of educational movements not only in this state, but also in school circles of America; and

"Whereas during his administration he consistently maintained the highest standard of excellence in his teaching work, and has himself been a constant source of inspiration to thousands of public school children, and among many other progressive measures he instituted the following:

"Splendidly equipped modern school houses.

"Large school play grounds.

"Training in hand work.

"A firmly established system for the election of teachers solely on the basis of merit."

"Be it therefore resolved: That the Oakland Board of Education do hereby bestow on J. W. McClymonds, as a mark of our appreciation and gratitude, and as our acknowledgement of his absolute integrity and invaluable services in this city and this state, the title of Superintendent Emeritus of the Schools of Oakland."

Stollwerck's products, "Standard of the World," New York Confectioners' Journal.

The only manufacturers of Milk Cocoa. It has the milk chocolate taste.

Our Gold Brand Plain Cocoa is made of the finest beans, contains no adulterations such as cocoa shells, starches or spices.

Make your own Ground Chocolate. Why pay cocoa prices for sugar.

When sugar is added to cocoa it becomes chocolate. Make your own at sugar prices. Figure out the saving to you by using the following recipe, besides getting the satisfaction so native to our goods, which is often missed by improper preparation.

RECIPE:
Mix equal amounts (a level teaspoonful to a cup) of cocoa and sugar, according to the quantity desired, and enough hot water to make a thin, smooth paste. Bring to a boil a half minute. Stir while boiling and add a pinch of salt; add milk and beat it. Don't boil milk. If you use evaporated milk, use two-thirds water and one-third milk.

Our goods will be found at all leading grocers, such as Kahn's Department Store, Sunset Grocery, Central Market, H. D. Cushing Co., Campbell's Grocery and Sturdivant Grocery, Oakland; Johnson's Cash Grocery, Sills and Sunset Grocery, Berkeley.

COOPERATION ON PACIFIC IS KEYNOTE

TOKYO, May 12 (correspondence of the Associated Press).—No such brilliant and successful event has occurred in Japan in recent years as the inaugural dinner of the newly founded America-Japan Society, which, attended by the entire cabinet and many other distinguished Japanese, was held last night at the Bankers' Club.

Viscount Kanto Kaneko, Marquis Shigenobu Okuma and others laid stress on the desire to co-operate with America in the development of the Pacific, whose era Viscount Monote conceived as now dawning and as surpassing in the vastness of the sphere of its activities and in the profundity of its meaning that of the Mediterranean as well as that of the Atlantic.

Special interest was attached to the words of Premier Terauchi that Japan and the United States were on the eve of joining their resources in chastising the common obdurate foe. It is understood that Japan will furnish what material is possible to the United States, including ships.

JAPAN OWES DEBT
Count Terauchi emphasized what he termed "the conspicuous fact in history that Japan owes the greatest debt of gratitude to the United States in formulating her national policy of energetic progress and international intercourse." He added: "The wonderful progress in means of communication has so narrowed the distance of the great Pacific ocean that we are like closest neighbors on either side of a little river. Moreover, by the participation of the United States in the present world war our ties have been strengthened by a community of interest. At such a time it is imperative that the friendly relations of the two countries should be cemented more strongly than ever by the combined efforts of the governments and peoples of both countries in improving their mutual understandings so that the best fruits of our friendly co-operations may be realized."

Marquis Okuma was another speaker who believed that the Pacific would be the central theater of the future and that the United States and Japan would become the most powerful actors on the stage. "Is there no fear then," he asked, "that the interests of the two countries may collide?"

TRADE DEPENDENCE.
"Not necessarily," was his answer, and he continued: "In trade and commerce the two nations can supply each other with what is lacking and by mutual advice and helpfulness both may expect to get along amicably. That is as long as the rivalry is of a commercial and pacific nature there can be no reason why the two nations should come to blows."

"Unless either party follows the policy of the German Kaiser—that of aggression and subjugation—Japan and America are safe from a bloody collision."

"Even now," he went on, "there are some problems on the Pacific coast about which the opinions of the two countries have not quite agreed, but considering them from the broad viewpoint of the two countries—friendship—none of such questions is too difficult to be solved with mutual satisfaction. The United States and Japan have too important a mission in the world's big theater to quarrel with each other on account of petty local questions. The opinion ventilated by some quarters that the American-Japanese interests in China are inconsistent is ridiculous nonsense. For, if China is to grow in prosperity through the investment of American capital, China will not be the only beneficiary. Both the United States and Japan will also profit."

URGES COMMON-SENSE.
Marquis Okuma concluded: "It is the plainest common-sense that as long as the United States is not affected by kaiserism, so long will the American money spent in the Far East bring nothing but beneficent results. If the two countries grow in intimate relations, economically and otherwise, all the little prickly questions between them are not worth troubling about, for they will solve themselves as time goes on."

In his address as toastmaster Viscount Kaneko, president of the society, explained that one of its objects was to present opportunities of bringing together American-Japanese for a free exchange of ideas so as to permit of a more thorough and correct understanding between the two peoples.

The following cablegram was despatched to President Wilson:

"The President, White House, Washington: American-Japanese Society, new bond international goodwill and fellowship, at inaugural banquet, three hundred representative Japanese and Americans, including premier and highest government officials, send sincere greetings to you and through you to the American people."

"VISCOUNT KANEKO, President."

ASKS VOLUNTEERS

NEW YORK, June 5.—Pleading for American volunteers to be sent immediately to France, General Nivelle, commanding the French forces along the Aisne river in France, declares that this is preferable from the French viewpoint to a great army raised by conscription.

An interview with Warren Whitney, an American architect now in Paris, was made public today in a letter from Whitney to the New York country. After discussing the great army proposed to be raised by the conscription method, General Nivelle said:

"We all fully believe that the United States of all countries is most capable of carrying out this project to a successful conclusion, but has it been sufficiently considered what a loss of time this vast program entails and has it been thought out that there is another plan which will give quicker results—more advantageous ones as regards the entering into line of the American forces?"

MANY RECRUITED

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 5.—The day before registration saw all records for army recruiting smashed. The returns this afternoon show that 4201 joined this arm of the service yesterday; the total of enlistments since April 1 reaching 101,492. New York led with 614; Illinois was second with 482; Pennsylvania third with 469 and Ohio fourth with 384.

ALCOHOL SCORED BY PHYSICIANS

NEW YORK, June 5.—A resolution declaring alcohol entirely without merit from a medical viewpoint was presented to the house of delegates, the governing body of the American Medical Association, which opened its annual meeting today by Dr. Frank Billings of Chicago, Chairman of the Council of Health and Public Instruction of the Association.

The resolution declared it was the unanimous opinion of the Council of Health that alcohol has no drug value, either as a tonic, stimulant, or in any other therapeutic way, and that its only legitimate use in medicine is as a preservative and in the preparation of pharmaceutical products. The resolution was referred to a committee and action on it is expected tomorrow.

Surgeon General Rupert Blue of the United States Public Health Service, president of the association, presided at the meeting of the House of Delegates. Referring to the co-operation of the association with the army and navy, he declared that from 800 to 1200 physicians and surgeons will be required to examine the men chosen for military service under the selective draft.

The convention was told that because of the "vast destruction of human life throughout the warring nations, child conservation has become an economic necessity."

All medical societies that have not already done so were urged to organize Red Cross committees at the earliest possible moment, "so that they may participate in the patriotic duties expected to be performed by the medical profession in all parts of our beloved country."

Members of the American Medical Editors' Association pledged themselves to "unlimited effort" in recruiting for the medical branch of the army.

They also voted to invest the surplus in their treasury in Liberty bonds.

Announcement was made at a meeting of the American Radium Society last night that the organization is ready to turn over to the government $300,000 worth of radium for use in military surgery.

DURST GAINS WEIGHT; CORPS IS COMPLETED

Edward M. Durst of Alameda, yesterday completed the personnel of the Hospital Unit No. 33. A week ago, Durst applied for a place in the unit but was rejected because he was nine pounds under the required weight. It was a provisional rejection and Durst was told that if he could take on the needed nine pounds within a week he would be taken into service.

Durst went home and for seven days ate six meals a day which featured much cream and bananas. He avoided all physical exertion and was motivated to and from high school by sympathizing friends.

Yesterday Durst appeared for the final weight test, tipped the scales and was passed into the ranks of Unit No. 33.

Durst says that during the next seven days he will submit himself to the thinning out process.

FLAG DAY TO BE HELD BY ELKS

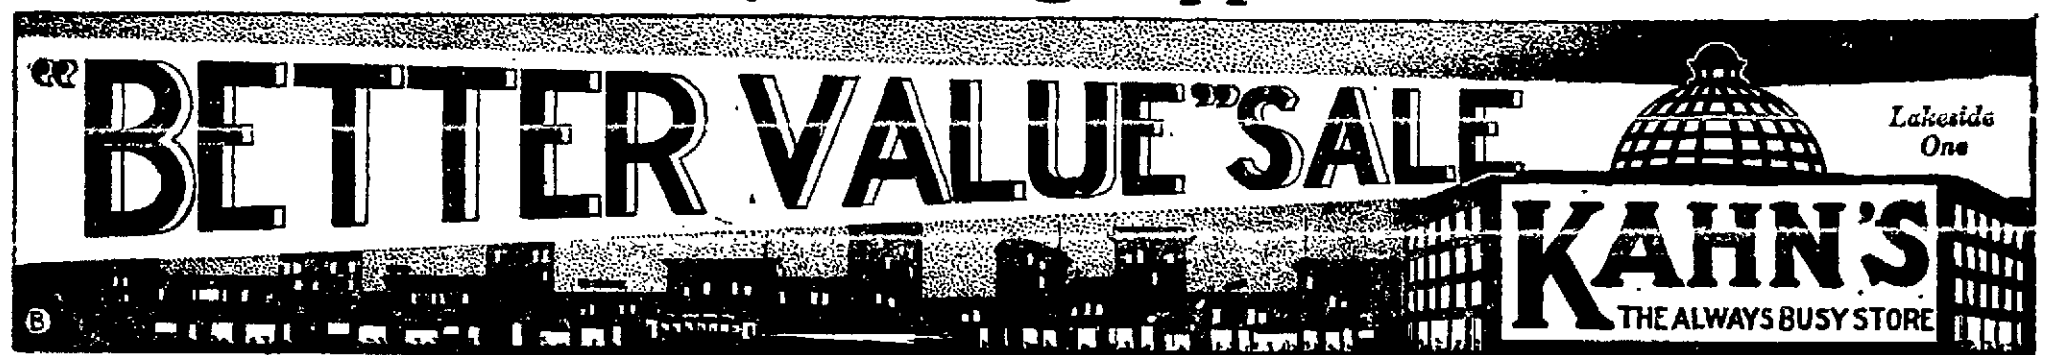

Flag Day will be observed by Oakland Lodge of Elks with patriotic exercises in the Municipal Auditorium opera house on Thursday evening, June 14. Past Grand Exalted Ruler Henry A. Melvin, under whose administration the Flag Day ceremony was inaugurated, will open the proceedings. Thomas B. Dozier, a member of Redding Lodge of Elks, will be the principal speaker. C. G. Landscheidt of San Mateo Lodge and Judge C. H. Conrick of Eureka Lodge will assist in the exercises. The musical end of the program will be especially impressive. A military band of forty pieces will play patriotic and martial airs and vocal numbers will be given by the Elks-Athenian quartet and Miss Lucy Van de Mark. The exercises will be open to the public and Elks are asked to bring their families and friends. The committee in charge consists of Herbert J. Anderson, W. E. Gibson, J. W. King, S. J. Hogan and W. E. Herkenham.

HOSPITAL WILL BE IN OAKLAND.

Finally a decision has been rendered and the new Alameda county hospital is to be built in Oakland. By a vote of four to one the County Supervisors yesterday passed a resolution providing for the purchase of the California College tract at Fourteenth avenue and East Twenty-seventh street. This is the site which was finally selected by the Board of Public Welfare after a comprehensive survey of all available sites in the county. Considerations which led to the selection of this site are its location close to the center of county population, convenience to all the main traffic thoroughfares between different communities and of Oakland, its size, and its general adaptability as a site for a large modern hospital.

The only serious objection raised against this site was the price asked by the owners—now $15,000, reduced from $63,000. It has been argued that this is an excessive price. But any objection that might exist on this score was overcome by the provision in the resolution passed by the supervisors for the acquisition of the ground through condemnation proceedings. This means that the price will be fixed by an impartial valuation board. The property is now assessed at $14,300 by the county assessor and the Oakland Real Estate Board has placed its value at $24,000, which is $20,000 less than the price asked. The action looking toward purchase by condemnation is in line with the suggestion made in Sunday's TRIBUNE and undoubtedly will result in the county acquiring this property at a lower figure than now asked by the owners.

The TRIBUNE is especially pleased at this outcome, belated though it is, of the long-standing hospital controversy. This newspaper has for more than a year and a half continually urged that the hospital and county infirmary be separated and that the hospital should be located in Oakland, where it would be accessible to the greatest number of the county's citizens. Recently THE TRIBUNE raised objection to a complication of the situation by placing upon the ballot a proposition for a bond issue for the land-purchase and a referendum on particular sites which would have divided the vote of the friends of the proposal to bring the hospital to Oakland, believing that it was the better course for the supervisors to order the purchase of a site in Oakland and to provide the funds therefor by a direct appropriation from the general county fund.

Yesterday's action by the supervisors settled all three of these questions in accordance with the clearly expressed demand of the public. The supervisors have taken the right course and one which will meet the approval of 90 percent of the county population. There will be slight ground for further criticism of the officials in this connection unless unnecessary delay marks the carrying out of the program adopted at yesterday's meeting.

ATTACKS ON FLOOD CONTROL FAIL.

Governor Stephens signed 803 legislative measures and allowed 233 others to expire via the "pocket veto" route. In thus disposing of the 1036 bills which the legislature sent to him for consideration, the Governor showed admirable discrimination.

One of the most important acts was his refusal to sign the Gebhart and Polesky reclamation bills. These measures were aimed as an attack upon the State Reclamation Board and against the general project for the control of the flood waters of the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers. They were drawn to serve special interests and, if permitted to become laws, would have meant a serious injury to this important project. The Reclamation Board, of seven members, as at present constituted, will continue in office with the same duties and powers that it enjoyed before the legislature convened. Governor Stephens has refused to approve the policy of the legislature to exempt from assessment lands lying within the Sacramento and San Joaquin Drainage District as at present outlined.

The special legislative effort to exempt large tracts of land in Glenn and Butte counties has come to naught. The attack upon the Sacramento flood control and reclamation project by the large land owners in the affected district was cunningly planned and, if allowed to succeed, would have brought this great scheme, in which the federal government and the State are partners, to a disastrous standstill. In refusing to sign the bill, Governor Stephens indicated that at the next session of the legislature he might recommend the passage of a law providing for the segregation of lands which will be benefited from those which will not, for the purpose of levying assessments, but that he will not countenance the individual and joint efforts of the big land owners of these valleys to escape their obligation to aid in protecting their land from flood damage.

LAND COLONIZATION APPROVED.

An important bill which the Governor signed in time to permit it to become a law was Senate bill 584, known as the land colonization act. This bill was introduced by Senator Breed of Alameda county and appropriates $250,000 for the establishment of a colonization plan by the State. Under this act 10,000 acres will be purchased as a starter and subdivided for resale to farmers of small means on long terms.

It is also a rural credits law. The $250,000 is to constitute a revolving fund from which loans may be made to persons desiring to purchase agricultural land at a low rate of interest and to be repaid in installments extending over a long period. While there are a few persons who regard this program with skepticism, there was no determined opposition to it and many claim that it is the most important act of the legislature and is a big constructive measure. It is designed to carry out the recommendation of the State Land Colonization Commission, which was created in 1915.

INCENTIVE TO THRIFT.

It is noteworthy that many business organizations throughout the country, including some of the largest industrial concerns, are encouraging their employees to buy Liberty Bonds. Many are helping their employees by advancing the money necessary for the purchase of the bonds and will permit the employees to pay for them later in small installments.

There is a reason for this business policy. Investment in a Liberty Bond is a saving; savings encourage thrift. A thrifty employee is always the most satisfactory kind, and a thrifty nation is always prosperous and powerful. A Liberty Bond is not only a savings investment, but it also is the safest investment and the best collateral.

Purchase of a Liberty Bond at the same time helps Uncle Sam by giving him silver bullets with which to end the war. Not everyone will have the chance to fire steel bullets, but all have the privilege of investing in the national securities for backing up the soldiers at the front.

Newspaper and magazine readers throughout the country have learned of the death of Colonel William J. Lampton with deep regret. As an occasional essayist and a regular contributor of humorous rhymes, he had a following exceeded by only a few American writers. Colonel Lampton's principal literary instrument was satire. He originated the form of verse sometimes known as "yamp," the precursor of the now celebrated verse libre. In past years he made frequent contributions to THE TRIBUNE, one of his last being a greeting in verse to the convention of newspaper humorists which met here during the 1915 exposition. Colonel Lampton made a distinct impression upon contemporaneous American literature and one which will long survive.

From Yuba county comes the news of a noteworthy increase in the cultivation of rice. The land planted to this cereal in 1917 is about 12,000 acres in excess of last season's acreage. In one tract about 9100 acres are being brought under rice cultivation and a costly irrigation system is being installed, which signifies that this development of the industry is to be permanent. Rice culture is increasing in other parts of the State at a rapid rate and promises to be one of the permanent increases in food production in California. The rice and cotton growing industries have developed to a remarkable extent during the last five years and have added notably to the economic independence of the Pacific Coast States.

It is written in Chinese folk lore that when T'sang Hsieh invented writing, the ghosts wept. If ghosts possess the quality of weeping they have been busy ever since the time of the gifted T'sang Hsieh.

CONFIDENTIAL ASSISTANT.

(New York Sun.)
We are getting on, as our English ally would say. The news from Washington reports that Walter Lippmann, aetui, 27 years 2 months and some days, is considered for appointment as "confidential assistant" to the Secretary of War. Mr. Lippmann is an editor of the New Republic, "an interesting effort," according to H. G. Wells.
Mr. Lippmann has filled public office before. He was secretary to a Socialist mayor of Schenectady.
Mr. Lippmann is the author of "A Preface to Politics," generally considered the most remarkable book ever published by a 24-year-old Harvard graduate who had had so little experience of his subject. Mr. Lippmann is mildly celebrated as the author of "Drift and Mastery" and "The States of Diplomacy," which discuss national and international problems in an important way—important is the word.

Not that anything should be said to discourage the Hon. Newton Diehl Baker from receiving any confidential assistance that can be extended to him. He needs good advice rather frequently. For that very reason it is regrettable that he seems to be in danger of getting advice from a young man who knows it all.

ARKANSAS IN THE LEAD.

(Kansas City Star.)
Two out-of-town visitors happened to meet in the Star office yesterday. One was from a famous Massachusetts town of 3000 population. The other was from an Arkansas town of 3000. The Eastern man inquired about the war spirit in the West.
"Down in my part of the country," the man from Arkansas replied, "we haven't many flags out, but we are ready to see it through. Sixty of our boys have enlisted."
"And in my Massachusetts town," the other replied, "we have a lot of flags and not more than half a dozen enlistments!"

NOTES and COMMENT

Baron Rosen explains that Russia is "on the edge of a precipice, and should find an exit before the growing anarchy wrecks the country." Aside from a dubious metaphor the expression is an exhibition of cold feet.

The British royal family has not figured much in this war, but now we are advised that Princess Mary is taking elocution lessons.

The interesting news comes from the battlefield that the Russ and German soldiers have ceased to fraternize. That is regular war news. When soldiers of opposing armies get so that they won't chum any more it is ominous.

It was rather a small affair as to men and cannon and fatalities, compared with very recent affairs, but it was large in world results, and that is why we shouldn't overlook it—the anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill, June 17.

According to a despatch, Germany is being supplied with American cotton. Italian traders are held to be responsible. The eternal cupidity of man is a trait that always has to be reckoned with.

It is quite a relief to come across a doctor who is an iconoclast—who tells you that you may drink ice water with your meals, bolt your food under certain circumstances, and eat any number of forbidden things. As that is what you do any way, it is satisfactory to have it approved.

It is a fact that Russia is furnishing the problem just at present, but it should be borne in mind that Russia has not been a positive force in the war for some time, and its temporary paralysis through internal convulsions is not as much of a defect as it otherwise would be.

The shipping board, composed of lawyers and politicians, is reported not to get along with Goethals, who is in charge of the great ship-building enterprise that the nation has planned. As between anybody and Goethals in such a matter there will not be much division of opinion. The country will only remember that the Panama Canal was dug under his supervision, and there is nothing more to it.

Brazil seems to have resolved its period of hesitation, judging from the despatch announcing that it had taken over forty-six interned German vessels and would put them in service. Forty-six vessels, thirty-three of them exceeding 4000 tons each, will be a carrying fleet of importance to the allies just at this juncture.

The story of the massacre of Serbians by German and Bulgarian troops would in other times be disbelieved, but things have been done in recent times that justify belief in almost any story of brutality that may be reported from that quarter.

The Governor dealt out surprises in the matter of signing measures that the legislature passed up to him. Those which failed to receive sanction numbered 233, which represent a lot of legislative travail. There is likely to be soreness over the Governor's disinclination to write his autograph clear to the end, but on the other hand there is also certain to be high-class satisfaction.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

Russel Easton of Oakland has purchased from George S. Thompson his highly improved twenty-eight-acre ranch located about one and one-half miles northwest of Hughson. Easton has spent several months investigating various parts of the State, and finally, after having a soil expert analyze and compare soils, decided to locate in "Sunny Stanislaus."—Modesto Herald.

Scarcity of foodstuff! Hundreds of citizens are planting spuds and vegetables to sit up half the night watching them grow. And while they do their duty, alien fishermen are killing, wasting or selling at fabulous profits tons of fish taken with nets in District No. 20. Inconsistency!—Avalon Islander.

Some of our food authorities estimate that if whole-wheat bread were universally substituted for white bread it would mean a national saving equal to adding 100,000,000 bushels of wheat to the year's crop. Yet the millers are vigorously opposing the whole-wheat propaganda. Is it because they make money out of white flour?—Riverside Press.

It is a happy idea of the University of Oregon to plan sending professors with the troops that students in arms may pursue their studies, for obviously the Germans will be taken aback to find another "kultur" enlisted against them, and, after all, it is no use continually singing that the war is mightier than the sword unless you are willing to take it into the trenches and try.—San Jose Mercury.

A hungry horde of hoppers has violated the fields that lie between Oroville and Chico and there is need of a horticultural Joffre to stem their threatened invasion of the orchards.—Chico Enterprise.

The State Council of Defense has sent out a request to housewives and others not to feed beggars. There is work, the council asserts, for every able-bodied man, and organized means of finding it for him. The police of any town can refer the applicant to the employment bureau or other means of finding work, and if the housewife is not informed herself, she should refer the applicant to the police.—Fresno Republican.

MR. GELDER'S STATEMENT.

To the Editor of The Tribune:

In your edition of May 28, under caption of "Gelder Scored by Clubwomen," I note that at a meeting of the Child's Welfare League held at the Hotel Oakland I was criticised because of what was termed my speech and activities "against medical inspection in the schools, and particularly vaccination." One of the ladies, who is the recording secretary of the league, remarked: "We all know that the way it is now conducted in our schools medical inspection is a splendid thing." As to whether it is a splendid thing or not is a question of viewpoint. In many cases which have come to my attention I found the greatest kind of hardship and suffering.

One of the great troubles with some of these well-meaning ladies seems to be that they take too much for granted. I am surprised that they cannot understand there are two sides to every subject, even the one of medical inspection in the schools. According to the report of Dr. Crutcher of Pasadena, who has charge of the medical inspection part of the school children at that place, there has been a greater average daily attendance and less illness since medical inspection has been done away with than during the time when medical inspection was practiced.

As to vaccination, I wish to state that the law now provides for conscientious objections. Thus vaccination is now no longer compulsory in California in the schools.

In Los Angeles and many other cities the school authorities respect the objection of parents when such objection to the medical examinations of their children is made in writing.

I have no objection to medical examination of school children when the parents or guardians of the children want it. But I do claim it as my natural and American right to choose my physician for my own children, and this is all I am fighting for. If the good ladies of the Child's Welfare League would take this right from me, then indeed is the principle of "government derive their just powers from the consent of the governed" and "we are all created equal with certain inalienable rights, among which are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness," preached for the vain. I am responsible for the care and welfare of my children, and surely I have the right to say who shall be their physician. This is all I ask or have ever contended for. In other words, I am opposed to compulsion in the matter of medical inspection. If I am willing and able to care for my children; if I am not careless, negligent or indifferent towards them in the matter of their health, then I claim I alone should call in my physician. The State has no right to step in and examine or treat our children without our knowledge or consent and able to do so. As to that class of cases not within my contention, I have nothing to say.

In conclusion, I would be glad if the league would be generous and kind enough to meet anyone whom they choose at their own or any other meeting and debate with such a person on the question of medical inspection in the schools whenever the parents object thereto, and are ready, willing and able to do so themselves. GEORGE GELDER.

Berkley, June 4, 1917.

RAILROADS NEED AID.

To the Editor of The Tribune:

Many people are not aware of how intimately they are concerned with the welfare of the railroads. If they were they would realize how important it is that the railroads should receive the same consideration that is extended other lines of industry. When the statement is made on behalf of the railroads that they are receiving less for what they sell and paying more for what they buy than any other industry in America, too many people are disposed to ask: "Well, what concern is that of mine?"

Now the fact is that, directly or indirectly, everyone in America is interested in the railroads. Our transportation systems do not belong to a few rich men and bankers. They are not the personal property of the officials. The directors do not own them; directors are the trustees and servants of stockholders. There are at least 1,500,000 owners of these securities of American railroads. Assuming that four persons are dependent upon these owners, this would mean 6,000,000 people. There are approximately 2,000,000 men employed in the railway service, and if you allow five dependent upon each, that would mean 10,000,000 people. Another 5,000,000 people are represented by the 1,000,000 workers in industrial plants directly dependent upon railroad operation, such as steel mills, mines, car shops, and so on.

Thus you have 20,000,000 out of a population of 100,000,000 who are directly dependent upon the railroads for their daily bread and butter. But these are not all. The insurance companies have $1,500,000,000 invested in railroad securities, representing 20,000,000 policy holders; the savings banks of the country have $300,000,000 invested in railroad securities, and there are about 11,000,000 depositors. So there are 41,000,000 additional people who are vitally interested in the success of this great piece of machinery.

When the call to arms came the railroads did not wait to be told their duty or how to perform it. They went ahead and mobilized 284,244 miles of united railroads, under a centralized command, for unified operation as a complete unit. They practically deeded away all authority over their properties for the period of the war. Without the expenditure of a cent, without fuss or arguments, without even the guarantee of dividends, the railroads unhesitatingly performed a patriotic act that at first flush seemed of such magnitude and difficulties as to be well-nigh impossible.

Now the railroads need consideration themselves. They are asking that the government not discriminate against them, but permit them the same privilege that is enjoyed by other lines of business. They want the privilege of earning more money because they are compelled to pay out more money. It costs them more to produce transportation, and as that is the only thing they have to sell, they must realize more revenue by that means or starve.

The railroads say that it will cost them more than 15 per cent to operate this year as compared with last, and they refuse to predict what will happen next year. The railroads are the largest purchasers in the country. They face the need of more facilities to meet the demands of the public and the government. No matter what it costs the railroads will have to keep their systems thoroughly efficient and up to the requirements of the hour. They are asking 15 per cent more revenues to meet an expense greater than that. Doesn't seem a very unreasonable request, does it?

$30,000 FOR AUDITORIUM SITE ASKED

Providing for nearly $30,000 in improvements to Peralta Park, the site of the municipal auditorium, the tentative budget for the park department has been adopted by the board of directors and filed with Commissioner W. H. Edwards. It is proposed to spend the money in beautifying the grounds surrounding the auditorium. The total amount asked for this year is $197,291.26 as against $210,000 allowed the park board last year or $12,708 less. This amount includes $80,758 for salaries and wages, $29,078 for miscellaneous expenses and $37,555.50 for improvements in the different park sites.

During the last year the park acreage has increased from 190 to 247 acres. Trestle Glen, Diamond park and the Jorgensen Miller holdings together with smaller parks in different parts of the city are being purchased.

BAND APPROPRIATION.
For defraying the expenses of the band concerts in Lakeside park, $7,700 is asked as against $3,000 received last year.

In addition to the improvements contemplated for Peralta Park where only $9,000 was spent last year, amounts are asked for improvements to the following parks: Linda Vista.

SESSION OF HOMEOPATHS OPENS HERE

The forty-first annual convention of the California State Homeopathic Medical Society opened its sessions at the Hotel Oakland today. The convention will be in session for three days and during that time will be addressed by eminent speakers from various parts of the state and the United States. Delegates from all over California are in attendance.

The convention formally opened with Philip Rice, president of the society, in the chair. Following the reading and correction of the minutes of the last session the delegates plunged at once into the main routine business of the session, which included the reports of various committees, the report of the board of directors and the appointment of permanent, new and honorary members. The election of officers for the ensuing year was also held at this session.

Memorial services were held during the afternoon for Dr. D. Thomas Krupp, former member of the society and one of its most distinguished representatives. At 2 o'clock Dr. C. B. Pinkham, secretary of the state board of medical examiners, gave an address on medical education and statistics, outlining the reforms to be enforced by the Gebhardt bill, which has received the signature of the governor and will become a law on June 27.

He urged the elimination of quacks through proper registration, the control of midwives under the provisions of the new law and the eliminating of the police functions of the state board of medical examiners and their assumption by the attorney general's office. He also commended the legal revisions which license competent osteopaths as physicians and surgeons after four years' experience and a state examination.

President Joseph H. King of the Chamber of Commerce will officially welcome the conventionists at the Hotel Oakland this evening. President Rice will also speak. At the conclusion of the evening session an informal reception will be given the visiting members of the society by the "Nielsen of California." The convention will close Thursday with a sight-seeing trip and tea at the Hotel Claremont late in the afternoon.

Secure Free Tickets; Enjoy Patriotic Events at Idora Park

TICKETS for TRIBUNE Day at Idora Park have been distributed to practically every store in the east bay district, and they can be had from these places for the asking. A list of stores where tickets can be had was run in The TRIBUNE Sunday morning and a supplemental list last evening.

The TRIBUNE will distribute tickets today and tomorrow at the main office at Eighth and Franklin streets and at the uptown branch, 1422 San Pablo avenue.

Tickets are good for children or adults. The whole family can go on these tickets.

Three kinds of tickets are issued, one for the morning, one for the afternoon and one for the evening. You can go and stay all day on one ticket.

When you enter the park a coupon ticket will be given you good for a chance at the gate prizes and five concessions. The coupons on these tickets are varied and all tickets are not alike. These tickets are free and only one ticket goes to each person.

Glanacis Co. of 415 Sacramento street, San Francisco.

The arrangements for the sham battle, gun contests and maneuvers of B Battery have been placed in the hands of Lieutenant Charles C. Alexander of the battery. Lieutenant Alexander has been most active in the work of the battery and is a genuine tactician. He was given special commendation while the battery was on the Mexican border and only a few weeks ago took the United States examinations for a commission in the regular army.

Lieutenant Alexander has worked out a splendid program for the afternoon, beginning at about 2:30. This program will be conducted in the new Idora Park stadium, and there will be seating room for all.

Tomorrow will be TRIBUNE Day at Idora Park.

The greatest patriotic celebration of the year will be staged by The TRIBUNE at Idora Park tomorrow.

In fact TRIBUNE Day at Idora Park will be the only formal patriotic celebration of the year.

There will be no formal celebration of the Fourth of July in Oakland or any of the neighboring cities this year.

And it has been left for The TRIBUNE to provide the only great patriotic celebration of the year for the bay district.

And The TRIBUNE is going to make the event thoroughly patriotic.

All through the day will run the idea of patriotism, and love of country, and the support of the President.

HONOR FOR B BATTERY.
B Battery of the California Field Artillery will be the guests of honor and the center of attraction during the day. And it is well that they should, because the battery has been ordered into service on or before August 1. As a matter of fact they are ready for service and will be ordered to the colors the moment that their equipment arrives.

And so TRIBUNE Day will be in the nature of a farewell to the brave battery that has once been called to the colors in the defense of the nation and which is now only waiting the signal to go to the battle front in far away France.

The boys of B Battery are waiting to "do their bit" in the defense of liberty.

The people of Oakland are given this chance to bid adieu to the boys of B Battery before they start on their only trip to foreign lands. The TRIBUNE offers everybody around the bay an opportunity to pay honor to the battery and have a magnificent day of patriotic celebration.

ALL COME AND CHEER.
All that The TRIBUNE asks the people to do is to come to Idora Park and have the time of the year. Come and cheer for Old Glory and the Boys of B Battery.

Get the list of addresses printed in The TRIBUNE Sunday morning and last night and find the place nearest your home and get all the tickets you need and then go to the park tomorrow. The tickets cost you nothing.

It is not only a privilege but it is a duty.

B Battery is on its way abroad for the honor of the country and the defense of the nation, and the grown-ups owe it to the brave boys of the battery. For TRIBUNE Day is not alone a day for the youngsters. It is a day for the grown-ups as well. Tickets are good for adults as well as children, and for girls as well as boys.

It is to be SOME DAY.

From 9 o'clock in the morning until midnight the Park Beautiful will be turned over to the guests of The TRIBUNE.

There will be something going on every minute, from the time that the turnstiles begin to click in the morning to the time that the last visitor passes out on his way home. Not only will the multitude of amusements within the park be in constant operation, but special features have been arranged for the entire day.

ALL ABSOLUTELY FREE.
And all this will be absolutely FREE.

The TRIBUNE has taken the park over for the day.

The TRIBUNE has issued 400,000 tickets good for admission upon that day.

The TRIBUNE has distributed these tickets to 200 stores and merchants in Oakland and the east bay cities, with the instructions that these tickets shall be given to the customers of that store, free. A list of these stores was run in The TRIBUNE Sunday morning and a supplemental list last night.

In addition to this thousands of coupon tickets have been prepared, good for a chance at the gate prizes and for certain concessions. One of these coupon tickets will be given each person entering the park tomorrow. These coupon tickets are also free, but only one will be given to each one that enters, and they will be good only for the concessions named above. These will not be exchanged.

Then there will be a splendid program of events, from early morning until late in the evening. Literally, there will be something doing every minute.

Races in the morning for boys and girls. Aquatic sports in the afternoon. Military spectacle and sham battle during the greatest part of the afternoon. Grand concert and entertainment in the amphitheater in the evening.

TO BE MAIN EVENT.
Of course, the main event of the day will be the gun section contest and sham battle of B Battery in the afternoon.

A gun section contest is between two gun crews and consists of the maneuvering of the gun according to the United States Army regulations, the crew performing its evolutions in the shortest time winning the contest. This contest will be judged by Major R. J. Tansel of the California Field Artillery; Colonel E. G. Hunt, retired, of the Fifth Infantry, N. G. C.; Walter J. Petersen, colonel of the Oakland Home Guard; Captain F. W. Petersen, California Field Artillery; and Captain Harry F. Huber of B Battery.

As prizes for this contest The TRIBUNE is able to offer a loving cup, presented by W. N. Jensen, the Oakland jeweler of 1201 Washington street, and a case of 500 Royal Nestor cigarettes presented by C. E. Taylor of the Nestor.

WILL SUPPORT BATTERY.
B Battery will be supported in its maneuvers by a contingent from the company of troops now encamped at the Union Iron Works. This company came from Fresno and is under the command of Captain Hopkins of that city.

There will be a marine band from Yerba Buena island and a full company of cadets from the naval training school on the island, under the command of Executive Officer Shoupe. The band will furnish music for the occasion and the cadets will drill.

There is going to be plenty of noise and shooting, for Lieutenant Alexander has planned a very spectacular sham battle. The battery will be posted as defending a position, and the Fresno company will attack from a clump of trees. The B Battery boys will defend their gun to the last man and then dismantle their pieces to render them useless to the enemy.

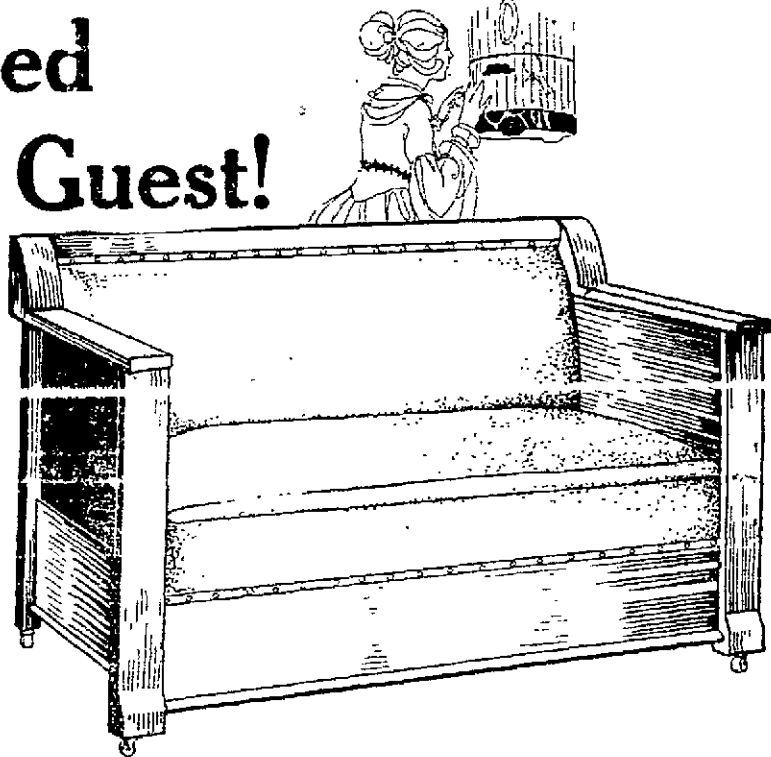

GLOW AS PRECAUTION.
Fifteen thousand mazzas and carbon lamps will glow, for Lieutenant Alexander has planned as a feature of TRIBUNE DAY nor a daylight exhibition of the brilliancy of the electric globes, but as a necessary precautionary measure to prevent the destruction of the delicate wire thread—

Don't Worry if You Lose Your Glasses

Ever since the founding of the largest optical establishment on the Pacific Coast, it has been a rigid rule to keep an exact record of all glasses made by them—also when glasses which have not been purchased there, but have been brought in for repairs or replacement, a permanent record is made. This is of vast importance to people who wear glasses for it is a satisfaction to know that in case of loss or breakage their glasses may be quickly replaced without the slightest inconvenience to them and at the same time know that they will be exactly in accordance with their prescription. The most modern optical instruments of precision are installed in the factories of this company, so that even without the prescription, if you have the broken piece or pieces, your lenses may be exactly duplicated. The latest and most progressive methods are used in systematizing this business so that the best optical service obtainable is assured. AD CLUB CARAVAN REACHES ST. LOUIS

By EDMUND CRINION.

The "Ad Club" auto tour of the San Francisco Ad Club came to a glorious finish yesterday in St. Louis when less than half of the original starters checked into the convention city within schedule time and with perfect scores.

The finish of six out of the fourteen starters in the tour was a triumphant event for the nifty pilots who had persistently fought all odds of weather and road conditions in order to carry out the original plans, and this motor tour will go down into auto history as the transcontinental mud-plug of all times.

Leaving San Francisco during the month of May—at a time when all transcontinental roads are impassable—this motor caravan traveled over the smooth smooth roads of the Southern Pacific over the Sierras with their cars snugly packed on flat freight cars, and then a combination of Midland trail—overland trail—railroad trains—vast expanses of gumbo and whatnot over which the boys managed to maintain a steady pace to the coast to St. Louis. They made it alright, but they will never try it again at that time of the year.

MOONEY TRIAL SOON TO START

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—With eleven jurors temporarily passed, four peremptory challenges remaining for the prosecution and ten for the defense, the trial of Mrs. Rena Mooney, one of the alleged conspirators in the preparedness day bomb murders, will proceed tomorrow morning before Judge Emmet

Seawell, who will add to six men of the present venire still undrawn, there will be a new venire of 100 takers on hand.

Three jurors were passed temporarily yesterday: Angus G. Boggs, contractor,

1256 Washington street; Thomas Brady, retired, 957 Filmore street; Alvin T.

Jewett, saw filer, 1312 Fifteenth street.

During the day the prosecution and the defense each used two peremptory challenges, excusing Fred Mayer, John D.

Kelsey, Robert Brent and William T.

Barr.

Eight jurors already sworn are:

Philip Maloney, retired school janitor,

304 Clayton street; John T. Welby, re-retired, 177 Oakdale avenue; August E.

retired German editor, 2168 Twenty-fourth street; Frank M. Channing, civil Joesten, optician, 321 Capp street; Arthur

Bryant, contractor, 1247 Ninth avenue;

A. V. Knopf, retired painter, 574 Eighth avenue; William R. Hardwick, manufac-ture's buyer, 1027 Jones street.

John Blum, grocer, 1013 Commercial avenue, was being examined as the court adjourned. He informed Judge Seawell that a woman had not been hanged in California for thirty-eight years, and that he did not believe that a jury in this state would ever return a verdict carrying the death penalty against a woman.

Because of this remark, he will probably be challenged by the prosecution to-morrow.

PROPER CREDIT NOT GIVEN COOL HITTEES

Batters Should Be Rated on Runs Driven in as Well as Percentage of Hits in Year

By C. E. BRAZIER

Coast League box scores in their present form do not do justice to the individual players in a department which might easily be covered in a few words in the summary of the game in place of such features now included as "left on bases," "time of game" and "umpires." This department which should be included in preference to these features is the matter of driving in runs. There are many players in the league this year, just as there have been many in past years and just as there are many in every league, who do figure high up in the weekly batting averages that are published, but who despite their mediocre batting averages would hold down honor positions in the driving in of runs.

Some players do not seem to be able to connect for hits unless there is somebody on base. And the player who makes two-thirds of his hits when there are men on bases is just about as valuable as the man who hits perhaps thirty points higher but gets only one-third of his hits when men are on bases. The Coast League has some striking examples of these valued men who cannot boast of fat batting averages, but who would have incentive to look at the records if the runs driven in by hits, sacrifices and infield outs were included in those records.

ADAMS AS VALUABLE AS MILLER

To cite a few cases. Mize of Vernon is known among all the pitchers in the league as dangerous man when there are runners on the bases. And yet the weekly batting averages in the TRIBUNE yesterday showed him batting .189. Other papers about the bay did not even include him. For the TRIBUNE's averages are the only ones which take the trouble to pay any attention to players batting below .200. Warren Adams of Oakland last week drove in five runs—just as many as any man on the club—and Adams is rated at .203 in yesterday's batting averages. "Hack" Miller was the only other Oak to drive in five runs for the week and Miller is batting .290. Sheehan of the Oaks drove in four runs last week and he is rated at .193 in the batting averages. Rod Murphy also drove in four runs and he is rated at .294. Lane drove in only four runs but he had a weekly batting average of .296 for the series and is rated at .252 in the batting averages to date.

In other words in point of runs driven in (and that is what wins ball games), Adams was just as valuable to the Oaks last week as Hack Miller was. Adams was just as valuable as Rod Murphy or Billy Lee. Yet in the only basis of rating players hitting runs in the Coast League Adams and Sheehan are rated from seventy to fifty points behind their players. The solution to this seems to be a change in the form of box score. It does not need to be longer. Such things as left on bases, time of game, and umpires could be omitted. Umpires could be run in the first box score of each series and no longer clutter up the features. The place of these features could be included in a note: Runs driven in by Adams, Burns, Sepulveda, 3. Sheehan scored on errors or were forced in by walks, or scored on wild pitches, passed the plate, or were hit by a pitch. But at a time when a run was within striking distance of the plate would then get the credit which it deserves.

NEEDS OFFICIAL SANCTION. This would not be an experiment. The league worked out a system along this line four years ago. The system was so good that it was adopted by the league and it was a labor of love that was done to fall through in time. All that is needed to make the system work is an official sanction.

It is well known that the league has included such a feature in the summary of the official box score, and then average column would be a waste of space. It would add a column to individual batting average tables, and that column would be a waste of space as well. The fans can get this feature added to the box score if they should like. It is a feature that is needed in the league and the league president will not be slow to meet the demand.

Today the Oaks and Vernon hook up in a double-header that may put the Howards into second place. The Oaks have won two games in a row and have taken two from Salt Lake. On the other hand the worst that can happen to the Oaks is to lose to Los Angeles. The Oaks are in a position to win the league and that would only be in the event of a dramatic drop-out by the game of Los Angeles taking two games from the Oaks—neither of which condition seems probable.

While Jack Roche is on the sicklist with his injured thumb, Del Howard will have a chance to give both Ray Miller and Warren Adams a trial side by side. For Roche is on the disabled list and he does not come within the player limit, and there will be no immediate need to get off somebody else. Roche is a star for a while longer after Miller gets here.

FAREWELL BUSHY RULE. The National Commission having ruled that the Coast League bushy rule is not valid, there may be some shakeups in a few clubs in the league that were made back by their own bushy rule. The rule required that each club have at least four men with less than one year's experience. The rule was a better rule. Throwing out the rule was a mistake. The rule was a good rule and it is a pity that it is being thrown out.

Right now, however, his pitchers are going in great in the state of affairs. The top of the team was needed to balance up the burden of the work with Prough, Kremer, Prough and Kremer are bearing the burden of the work with Goodred and Beer next in line in the point of work. As long as this trio stand the team will be in good shape. The pitching staff will be in good shape. The team will be in good shape.

SAN PABLO STARS WIN. The San Pablo Stars defeated the Batters' Club 5 to 3. Score: Batters' Club: 1. H. E. Hoffer, 1. 2. J. O. Adams, 3. J. O. Adams, 4. J. O. Adams, 5. J. O. Adams, 6. J. O. NOTICE OF SALE OF STOCK

CASE HINGES ON JUDGE'S STATUS

A quarter of a million dollars expended in court proceedings in San Francisco, Los Angeles, New York and Washington may have been wasted, if the decision of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals should support the contention of Attorney Peter F. Dunne that Federal Judge Benjamin Bledsoe is disqualified to hear litigation and that all proceedings over which he has presided are therefore invalid.

Dunne, representing the Honolulu Consolidated Oil company, has brought mandamus proceedings against Judge Bledsoe to disqualify him from sitting on a case in which the company is defendant and the Federal Government is plaintiff on the ground that the judge was a stockholder in KIO in other oil companies which would be affected by the decision in this case.

Should the Circuit Court agree with Dunne, all the proceedings in the billion-dollar suit in which the government is seeking to oust the Southern Pacific from the California oil lands may be set aside.

ROLL OF HONOR TO SHOW THOSE WHO AID U. S. IN HOUR OF NEED

All Rally to Preserve Earth's Peace and Democracy

Figures will shortly be available on the investments in Liberty bonds made by the men and women of Alameda and Contra Costa county.

When these figures are checked up and list is compiled with your name be on the roll of honor.

Have you invested in the Liberty bonds—the safest security in the world, the promise of your country, the best investment on the face of the earth, to pay you 3½ per cent interest on your investment, free from all taxes except inheritance tax?

Have you invested in the safety of the world by buying one or more Liberty bonds?

At headquarters of the Liberty Loan Committee for Alameda and Contra Costa counties, 508-509 Syndicate building, C. Edwin Oyster, secretary, and H.

Why You Should Invest in Liberty Loan Bonds

Because it is your patriotic duty. Because they are the safest investments in the world; will bring you a regular income that cannot be taxed; are accepted by banks as security for loans, and may be converted into cash more readily than any other form of property. Because bonds can be bought at par, without any premium, on easy terms, at any bank or direct from the United States Treasury Department.

Because the Liberty Bond is an obligation of the United States of America—your own country—the highest credit security in the world, always the favored investment of the wealthy, now issued in small denominations and available on equal terms to all.

Because interest is paid twice a year, December 15th and June 15th, at the rate of 3½ per cent per annum; are exchangeable without additional payment for any bonds bearing a higher rate of interest that may be issued by the government before the termination of the war; are free from all federal, state or local taxes, both as to principal and interest, except estate or inheritance tax.

Because it is up to you to furnish the sheaves of war both as a protection to your home and family and as an investment in the liberty, freedom and democracy of the world—the only basis on which your country has entered the European struggles.

INVEST IN A LIBERTY BOND TODAY!

H. Fair, manager of the distribution department and in charge of the volunteer bond salesmen, are in daily touch with the thousands of citizens in the east bay section who are rallying to the Liberty Loan, who are investing in Liberty bonds, who are determined to do "their bit" in shortening the great war by providing the sheaves of war for the United States and her allies.

"Reports from the outside districts are encouraging and Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda are rallying to support of the government war loan," said Oyster today.

The bond salesmen are working 15 hours a day, rounding up the patriots who realize the value of the investment offered in the Liberty bonds and who know that only an over-subscription will be considered a victory for America," said Fair this morning.

MORE VOLUNTEERS WANTED.

The corps of Liberty bond workers at headquarters has got more work than they can handle.

Wanted: more clerks, more salesmen, more office men. This is the appeal of the Liberty Loan Committee for Alameda and Contra Costa counties.

Secretary Oyster needs an assistant. Who will volunteer? The appeal of Fair for help was promptly answered. Who will come forward to aid Secretary Oyster?

Under the direction of H. C. Capwell a notable list of Liberty bond speakers has been secured. These men are available at any time during the day or evening to speak before large or small gatherings on the Liberty bonds. They

The Curious Quest Mr. Ernest Bliss

By E. Phillips Oppenheim

"If, Mr. Johnson," he continued, "you adhere to the very delightful standards of life advocated by what is known as the respectable part of the community, I am afraid that you and I will find very little in common, and that my assistance would be valueless to you. If, on the other hand, you recognize the only real philosophy of life, the philosophy that teaches us that, in accordance with the laws of nature, the strong man must take from the weak, the clever man must strip the fool; that the man with brains and wit has a right to what he can take from those less amply equipped; if, as I say, Mr. Johnson, you can bring yourself into line with this modern train of thought, then it is possible that you have reached the end of your troubles."

Bliss, for the life of him, could think of nothing to say. The man's splendid reasonableness was unassailable.

"If I might venture to point this out without hurting your feelings, my young friend," Mr. Fancourt went on, "might I suggest to you that, in this eternal warfare, you, up to now, have been on the side of the sheep? Let me propose to you that, having served your apprenticeship in one camp, you come over to the other? Permit me to offer you another cigarette."

"I was once," Mr. Fancourt continued, "almost in your position. I am now able to live in a civilized manner, to afford myself the luxuries of life which, to men of our class and breeding, are practically necessities. The people who contribute toward my support are the sheep."

"And how," Bliss inquired, "is the fleecing done?"

"My young friend," he said, "today we are what one might call laying foundation stones. The whole scheme of my profession, which in its way is, I think, unique, is a thing which you will only be able to grasp month by month, perhaps year by year. The immediate question is how to make use of you."

"It's up to you to point the finger," Bliss remarked cheerfully. "I'm on the pretty nearly anything."

"Just so," Mr. Fancourt murmured. "At the same time, you can understand that your admission into the little circle of—shall I say, my disciples—must naturally be an affair conducted by degrees. We have to place you, first of all, upon—or—protection. Now tell me, are there any of the ordinary pleasure haunts of London which you feel you could frequent without embarrassment?"

Bliss hesitated for a moment.

"It would be particularly recommendable, if possible," Mr. Fancourt suggested gently, "the promenade at the popular music halls."

"Quite all right for me," Bliss declared.

Mr. Fancourt smiled.

"You were, I perceive," he remarked, "in touch with the modern ideas prevalent among young men of fashion."

Bliss nodded.

"Better form to be seen in the promenade of any of these places," he admitted.

"Excellent," Mr. Fancourt agreed. "Now as you are doubtless aware, it is in these places that the sheep are gathered together. It is the young men from the provinces we want. Their white waistcoats are appalling, and their ties uncertain, but their money is good. They are young, appalling, too, by the way, as the month by a candlestick of my little enterprises," Mr. Fancourt continued, leaning back in his chair, "is a mixed bridge club. It opens at 10 o'clock and provides a little harmless diversion for these young men who are on the lookout to see life."

New Bonds Are Safest Security in the World are prepared to answer all questions, to tell the reasons why Uncle Sam is calling dollars to the aid of the country, to show why the bonds are not only a good investment but are a necessity if the people of America are determined to wipe out autocracy and preserve democracy.

Anyone desiring to have a speaker address any meeting is requested to call at headquarters in the Syndicate building or telephone Oakland 3516. A speaker will be promptly furnished.

CAVALIER AIDS CAMPAIGN. William C. Cavalier is the latest volunteer worker for the Liberty bonds in Alameda and Contra Costa counties. Cavalier has left his office in the First National Bank building in charge of assistants and is now making a tour of the two east bay counties, strengthening the Liberty loan organizations outside the three cities—Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda. He has been made a member of the publicity committee.

WE CAN AFFORD IT. One of the finest contributions to the Liberty Loan campaign is the booklet issued by the Central National Bank, being a synopsis of the reasons why you should purchase Liberty Loan bonds, to which is added a tabulated analysis of the resources and debts of the principal nations of the world.

This table shows that the national wealth of the United States is $157,739,071,090 which is greater than the combined wealth of Great Britain, France and Russia. The wealth per capita of this country is greater than any of the other nations now at war while the present debt per capita in the United States is $79 as against Great Britain's $291, France's $432 and Russia's $66.

The table also shows that after the sale of the authorized Liberty bonds issue, the national debt of the United States will only be $5,000,000,000 as against Great Britain's $15,400,000,000, France's $15,350,000,000 and Russia's $11,570,000,000.

All of which goes to show how little the citizens of the United States are asked to invest in Liberty bonds to finance the great war as compared to the per capita investments of our European allies.

LODGE BUYS. HAYWARD, June 5.—Sycamore Lodge, No. 123, of Odd Fellows, bought $100 worth of Liberty bonds at a meeting last night. Patriotic addresses were given and the members decided to cooperate in every way possible with the local loan committee in securing subscriptions to the bonds here amounting to $175,000. William Langer is president of Sycamore Lodge.

LODGE BUYS BONDS. WALLACE, Idaho, June 5.—Wallace Lodge of Elks, at a special meeting held last night, subscribed for $10,000 in Liberty loan bonds.

MY TIRED FEET AGCHED FOR 'TIZ'

Let Your Sore, Swollen, Aching Feet Spread Out in a Bath of "Tiz"

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching, burning, corn-pestered, bunion-tortured feet of yours in a "Tiz" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "Tiz" bath.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "Tiz." It's grand—it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions.

There's nothing like "Tiz." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot torture.

Get a 25-cent box of "Tiz" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet feel how comfortable your shoes feel. You can wear shoes a size smaller if you desire.—Advertisement.
